55th Season

Hartwick College Summer Music Festival & Institute

August 2001

On behalf of the administration of the Hartwick College Summer Music Festival & Institute, I extend warm greetings to all.

The 55th season contained one of the highest levels of music making, as well as a strong spirit of fellowship and camaraderie in which all students, counselors, and faculty thrived and created another year marked by unparalleled artistic excellence within a magical environment.

Some of the new special events included a residency by the Dorian Wind Quintet, one of the premier woodwind ensembles. In addition, the composition program was highlighted by residencies of two great composers – Karel Husa and Hilary Tann. There were trips to both Glimmerglass Opera and Tanglewood, and four students were featured as winners of the first annual Institute Concerto Competition. New offerings included classes in Guitar Repertoire and Technique, Beginning and Intermediate Guitar, Diction for Singers/Vocal Performance, and a new Music Theatre Workshop.

Each concert and recital was special, and each of you made meaningful contributions and exhibited a high degree of musicianship. Once again the HCSMF&I family grows larger and the beautiful sounds created this summer will resonate all year in the hills of Oneonta.

To all of you who have taken part in the 2001 Hartwick College Summer Music Festival & Institute, I congratulate you and wish all the best for the coming year.

Sincerely,

Townsend A. Plant
Interim Director

Are you ready...

How to Get Girls

1. Basic Rules-
   1. Always have a list of girls
   2. Back-up plan

Slow / Fast

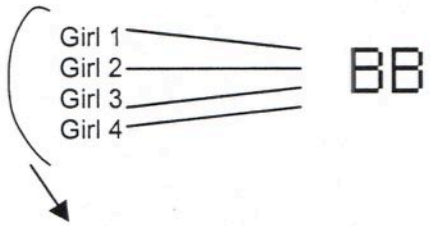

Step 1-Establish conversation
Step 2-Mack it (flirt)
Step 3-Close the deal
Step 4-Break up whenever you feel that the time is right
Step 5-Find new girl and repeat

	Examples
"Closing the Deal"- 1) initiate mood	put arm around
2) move in for the kill	lean over and kiss

"Mackin' it"-
1)make fun of personal habits (within reason)
2)use and toy with personal belongings
3)talk about personal things

Friendship Zone- Do not go into the friendship zone!
1)girl cares about fz
2)excuse for rejection

Choice depends on mood of girl and relationship with girl

Women's Vocal Octet

If you ever happen to pass through 3rd floor Yager during ensembles time, you probably heard a lot of noise, and in the midst of this noise, there was music. The music is, of course, coming from the women's vocal octet, directed by Ethan Nash.

The original group included Rachel Miller and Sarah Bush on Soprano I, Liz Esman ND Olena Ripnick on Soprano II, Bonnie Alger and Liz Boyea on alto I, and Shirah Pollock and Erin Shannon on alto II. Throughout the first session, the octet spent time trying to decide which path to go down in Robert Frost's "The Road Not Taken," an "Ethan original." Despite the "interesting" second Monday rehearsal, the ensemble pulled off a world premiere performance "just as fair" as hoped for. Clearly, the Pez dispensers had made "all the difference."

Second session missed the talents on half the group, but ready to take over were Lizzie Klemperer on soprano II, Robyn Swirling on alto I, and Becky Nathanson on alto II. During the middle two weeks, we tried to imitate the crashing sound of oars against the waves in "To Be Sung on the Water." Some rough tides were experienced, but we managed two "beautiful" performances to everyone's "delight."

With one session left, Emily Rotella and Emma Jensen joined us on soprano I and II, respectively. After weeks of researching, fine tuning, and trying to determine what voice part Abe Lincoln would sing in his afterlife if he was a female, Ethan's rendition of the Walt Whitman poem "O Captain, My Captain!" was finally complete and ready to be sung. The "ship weathered every rock" when both members of the alto I section lost their voices in the middle of week 5, but this passed after both of them refrained from singing for a day. The piece's chilling chords and amount of emotion exerted everyone in awe of Ethan's brilliance.

Over the course of six weeks, only four vocalists remained constant; but that did not keep the growing and changing together. We laughed harder than ever before, got upset when Ethan was frustrated with us, experienced singing in the stairwell and outside, yelled at the instrumentalists on the other side of the wall, drew on the chalkboard, and overall had a great experience. Now that the summer is over, it can be said that "our fearful trip is done." I am certain that, "somewhere ages and ages hence," you'll "be telling us with a sigh," with thoughts of grassy sections, trumpets, and oh yeah, a whole lot of water.☺

The Last Will and Testament of Meg Ray

In these remaining days before the bitter end, I look back at the memories that we've made together. I appreciate each and every one of them, and will forever be indebted to you all- my friends. To Gwen: All of your castles- the pointy castle…in pink, el castillio espanol…en rosado, and of course, my fairy tale castle…in pink! Take care of them! I also intend that you should have Brownie, that he should protect you from the horrible dark Darth Vader Shadows that often lurk in the corners of bedrooms. Finally, I leave you with good wishes that your life may never be as complicated as mine, as you know from our late-nite discussions, and that you'll find happiness in whatever you do. Keep smiling! I love you! To Laura: I leave you nothing, so that you may enjoy being naked and free the rest of your days. Actually, I want to recommend to you a certain therapist, because we all need one, but especially you, you crazy, crazy girl. Lots of laughter- I love you! To Holly: A large sum of money donated to the cause of finding a cure for the what disease. Additionally, a reminder of our special elite club with Beth of which we will (hopefully) soon no longer be members. (Oh darn! You beat me by two today!) If you understand that after a week of not seeing me, I'll be impressed. Lots of love! To Anna: My chastity clothing, so that you'll have something to wear to the concerts. As you said, in such a perfect Ladies' Man accent "Yea, OK, those clothing limitations eliminate my whole wardrobe…" You are the greatest, funniest, and I love you forever. To Beth: Fond memories of our special club… By next year, I'm sure your count will be higher than mine. Also, I leave you Laura, because she said to. Sorry, that was random…At any rate, you are SO sweet, and I love you always. To Dana: I leave you my brain…I believe that no further explanation is needed. I also want you to have Claude, because Laura said to. Love you lots, you are SO funny!!! To Laurie: You get to keep Eric of the week, you lucky girl! Heehee. I also leave you good suck and musical talents for when you go home and learn all 3000 instruments you intend to. Finally, I love you and it's been great getting to know you! You give some awesome advice…Keep in touch. Edem: An extra sweatshirt in case a fire ever catches me in the shower again. I also leave you a hug, because you want one. I love you! Claude: Some music for you to practice your excellent sight-reading, your own copy of The Englishman Who Went Up a Hill but Came Down a Mountain, and a pair of running shoes since you're my special running buddy! Ben: A pair of running shoes, and a first place medal, since I'm admitting you beat me during ins and outs. 15 to 1, yea I think you (cough DIDN'T cough) win. Good luck as the trumpet god, because only one with your talents could play that instrument for 5 hours straight! Jordan: You get a pair of running shoes, too, buddy. I'm also leaving you a new alarm clock, since yours doesn't work…Jeremy: OK, OK, I'll let you have the chair! Not that you wouldn't take it even if I didn't leave it to you. But we'll always know that "F is for Favorite" in American Salute, and who can play that part? Oh right…you've been a great stand partner, keep in touch! Dan Block: a non-moldy clarinet, and a flutter tongue. Festival Band was fun, wasn't it? Lisa, Becky, and Elizabeth: I leave you a box…with me in it! Your very own Meg-in-a-box! You guys are so fun to hang out with…I love you all! Rina: Some special doodling paper and pens for our highly entertaining sight-singing class…Thanks for always lending me pens! Al: The bestest counselor ever: Do you want the shadows under my bed, because I'd gladly give them to you NOW if you'll take them…Thanks for the stars, they'll remind me of you every time I took them! You're a great counselor, and I love you so much! Veronica: a manual on how to dance and lots of love! Also, and overly large checkerboard…Emma: Music to practice your super-fun sight-reading, and of course, a pair of running shoes! It's been great getting to know you! Haidy: My toothbrush, so that memories of my constant "Hi Haidy! I love you@ I'm going to brush my teeth now!" Will live on forever in your heart. I love you, and no, I don't want anything . Christine: a tennis racket, a glow-in-the-dark star, and lots of hugs! I love you! Now that I've distributed all of my belongings amongst my dear friends, I'd like to take the opportunity to say: I love you all! Don't forget to write!

The Last Will and Testament of Stephanie Parsons

Caryn, my roommate: I leave the ability to continue her reign as the Pizza Princess, Rasinet Bug, Swedish Fish Taste Tester, Midnight Philosopher Soap Opera Screenwriter and Dorm Room Decorator. Shannon (aka Juicy Girl): I leave a bag of Craisins and some junk food. Also, thanks for finding "my door" and I hope you have better luck with you-know-whats in the future. Rachel: I leave more time for practicing and swimming (but not at the same time, of course!) Lorraine: I leave some more good dance music and the role of "mom" in our group of friends (I usually end up in that position so the two week break was much appreciated). Christina (Chrissy): I leave the ability to ask me to be your "ice bream buddy" anytime. Also I hope that the ice cream really does "fix everything" and help you overcome your troubles. Aaron: I leave the ability to "fly" down the hill with your Tuba (like superman) without hurting yourself or the instrument. Evan:I leave nothing because I can't think of anything that you should have that you don't already have. Please don't get mad at me, I'm really sorry that you're the only one not getting anything (for the record, I'm NOT even going to leave you a gun to kill me with for this and if I was it wouldn't be loaded anyway)_On the other hand this is incredibly long despite the fact that I'm not leaving you anything…Okay, fine you can have a bookmark to keep your place in this "novel" and maybe even some good luck in the future.

Enid: I leave a very big thank you as you have been extremely helpful (rhythm work and balloon) in terms of improving my playing. My Clarinet trio (Jeremey, Suzanne, and our coach, Dae): I leave some good, easy music and a master key so we don't loose too much practice time.
The Charlotte side 1st Floor Girls and our fabulous counselors: I leave the memory of the best floor theme and endless opportunities to bond via "girl talk" sessions. My Sight singing Class: I leave better music, chalk, "Field Trips" to Dan Block's theory class and the ability to make copies while maintaining a friendship with the copier Lady. Symphonic Band: I leave good weekday rehearsals in order to avoid early Saturday rehearsals. Symphony Orchestra: I leave a better balance of winds and strings. Anyone I For got: Please accept my apologies (you may "yell" at me via e-mail: KCParsons@Juno.com)

The Last Will and Testament of Katie Schwartz

I, Katie Schwartz, leave the following to my friends: Moira Cobb: I leave simple…MORON!! <3 KP (lol). Alison Steely: Here's a body-guard, to protect you from…no comment! P.S.- Use Aaron's mind! Michelle: I leave a crossword…BYE! And a hug, but not from me! "I was walking around a haunted house…" Thomas Adsit: Thanx for the visor!! (how stupid is that!) Clarinets rule!! Matt B: You're a good/bad person! (which one?) Ben Sorrell: "I'm special!" (You know what I mean!) Aaron Sorrell: SLAP!…pool table…the fourth of July! Carey A.: I told you I would bring the CD player back ! I'm attached (lol) (I mean w/ the headphones) P.S. "Where da party at?" Mike Laskey: "Do you have another baseball fun fact?" Rebecca Morrow: Curly hair rocks! Clap, pop, clap, pop, clap! Liz Spector: Keep trying those contact lenses. Once you get it you will feel SO stupid. Don't give up! Amanda Gavlick: Contact lenses are easy, right? Don't give up on Liz.

The Last Will and Testament of Sarah Bush

Olena: memories of sleep talking, brownies, "conserve water, shower with a friend", Phis with a hott voice, and pez. (call me!). Mary: Memories of twin BF's, toilet seat pics, and goth. Floor # 3: You guys rock! Emily: Memories of SOVS. Ben and Aaron: You guys kick, keep in close touch!
Dan: Memories of cool watch, braiding hair, and stuffing me in a locker. You rock! God bless…Jenni: "goth, goth, goth, goth…" Hillary, Erin, Susane, and All: All my love. Keep in touch. Pinkish_Floyd@hotmail.com.cr

The Last Will and Testament of Elizabeth Oritz

Moira Cobb: The cafeteria guy, a body of her own, and crazy dreams. "There are too many of us" Liz Talbert: 1,000 games of Egyptian Ratscrew and hair detangler. "Can we play cards during intermission?" Elyssa Plotkin: 3 stick of gum I stole from her, " What does an axe murderer mean in a dream?", and sparkly shoes to get a way from the witch.Catherine Calhoun: the ability to walk across a room in flip-flops, and a servant to carry her French horn. 135 steps from Anderson to the Commons. Caylee Bowen: Short Symphony orchestra rehearsals and Health Ledger. "How do ya walk in those shoes?" Michelle Anderson, Avi, and Elyssa: "No means no!" Katie Schwartz: A thousand bus rides, a giant crate of gelato, and Moulin Rouge, and a skirt with a circular hole, ."…and another time, a kid lost a finger…and he wore the same t-shirt every day…and I pushed him away". Amanda Gavlick and Liz Spector: Austin Powers, not the Parent Trap. "We're watching WHAT for floor bonding????" Dr. Wallace: Good "ah" vowels. ""Get in touch with your tragus." Andrea Mumm: Short bangs, "Floor bonding watching Andrea get her hair cut." Alicia Kravitz: Dae Kim- "You're doing flute vibrato, not piccolo vibrato."

The Last Will and Testament of Elyssa Plotkin

I was a clarinet (NOT Bassoon) player here for 4 weeks. Please don't forget me! Moira: I really don't like Michelle in that way, and thanks for letting me borrow the Hobbit- I'll finish it eventually. Elizabeth: If you ever need to know what one of your crazy dreams mean, don't hesitate to call me. We have matching shoes! You were SUCH a great roommate! Liz: I'm here to bring some cheer into your life, and I don't mean the laundry detergent. Rebecca: You ARE skinny! Dan: Never forget to Galop- and the pretty song, too. I honestly LOVE your CD. Bass Clarinet Rules!!! The CIT who helped me when the washing machine was going to explode: You saved my life! (and my clothes!). Dan Block: You should have played softball with us! Sean: "Can I pleeaase play your soprano sax, Sean?!?", "CLEAR!!!", "I always missed with those ice cubes and the hot chocolate, huh?", "From your semi-evil (but not half as evil as you) friend, Elyssa", "Ewe- how could you wear that shirt, Evil Sean?!?!?, I'll miss you, but hopefully, we'll see each other again in the musical world.

The Last Will and Testament of Eileen McIver

Trudi: One leg, "send me a postcard.", locked out in a towel, sleepwalking…oh, there's a door there, "we've moved up in the world!", "sssss…aaaaa….."-studder much? Patch: Mail me my watch! Ed: Counseling Aaron Class. Martine: "I like your boyfriend". "don't share the food!", Chinese on Pizza nite, wake-up calls…to sleep, "Whose is this?", "Why doesn't she walk around in a bikini with a bag over her head?", I love you forever and ever! I'll always remember you as my best friend! Manda: "SNORT!", "Heck with hills!", "Cut me some frickin' slack here, ok?", "I see you!", GIMPY! Liz: "I am SO confused…", depressed child, Pre-auditions…yeap, you suck (lol), Keep in touch! Love ya! Levi: Umm…one shoe's down there, and one shoe's in the garbage. Lol! Love ya, "gorgeous" Terri: "Eileen…RUN!!!", "How d'you spell pilot?", "Do you live in a BARN?!?!", "a princess dress!" Love ya babe. Louis: My punching bag…David: "Duck!, batmobile, that broken flip-flops, piggy-back rides to the park. Robyn: My sidekick, "stealing your man", yes, I'll go to the dance with you. Leah: If you only had a brain (j/k), "what's obnoxious?" Theatre Matt: SwinGRR, "I can show you the world" Dave Dash: Sup superman? Townsend, Nathan Warner: Camo! "I am BATMAN!", "HARTwick", "C'mon Eileen", "Do you wanna see my monkey?", Fun Run, Shaggy the Spak-Monkey! You have a girlfriend?!?!?! My amusing hand, Biederman?…Eaaawww. ~Your favorite camper!~ Emily: I leave you a pumpkin eating rabid rabbit named squirrel, and your own pair of jeans. Love ya. Megan: Maaaaagan, Eyebrows!, Peter…Levi…Nathan…, Um…Yea…Um…Ben Guise: Rolling down the hills. Love ya bro.Hannah- Gorgeous! I LOVE YOU! Kelsey: Biederman?!?!?! Love ya, babe. Leander: Nice marimba solo, thanks for the lessons, shut up? Peter: Ditsy?!! Perfectionist?! MELLOW?!?!…Did you forget your meal-card? "your personality makes up for it" lol, love ya. Bobby: Aurthur! Casey: Knock me off…Drop me off…? Our cues in concert jazz (WE need to practice?)
If I forgot anyone, I'm really sorry, but I will always remember you all. Keep in touch (Hiyenna@yahoo.com)

The Last Will and Testament of Anna McGovern

Carly – Pizza Box, keep your hair wavy, shorts are better than pants, fries and ice cream Rule, remember the S.B., never stop being lazy and boring. Little Liz- Stop hurting yourself, never stop writing duets, your hair will look good short, sorry you couldn't go to Wal Mart. Liz- 5:10 Door Locked (Ha, Ha, Ha), Never stop playing the oboe, you're great, you're lucky you had such a great roommate. Amanda- Sorry you sprained your ankle, hope you had fun giving Madeline a makeover. Mary- Sorry you can't stop coughing , thanks for always being there, Wal Mart is cool. Madeline- Please do your won shopping, your good at gameboy. Will- You're funny, you're weird, but you're nice, sorry for hurting you soooo much. Laura- Your hair will never be straight. Nicole- Thanks for helping me on the first day, you're a great friend. Michelle- You are cool, Wal Mart is cool and fun, French horn rules. Cary- You are weird but funny, you're a great percussionist, you are the only person I know that can play the bells sooo well. Leander- You're a freak of nature, you are a very good percussion player, never talk when a conductor is talking.

The Last Will and Testament of Stevan Michaels

To all my (Steve's) Hartwick friends, let's take a stroll down memory lane: To my roommate, Jon M.. I leave chess games at 2am, a day of at least 9 hours to practice, and stories about college. Ariel, I leave you many "gongs", a Hartwick movie, bow- chicken-bow-wow, and some inhibition. To Lorna I leave SNL bits, "ummm....", and free lessons on s..... Vicky, I leave you the name Vixen Vicky, Dan Block's arms, and erotic menu's. Lee, my man, I leave you old school camp, Z impressions, Turd Furguson and the porch Monkees, and Killburgers- 4:57. Becca M., I leave sight singing and fast food outfits. Dan Block, I leave you concert band and perhaps yet another year as my senior counselor. Phil H. I leave you starfish midget men in the cafeteria. Franni, there are of course the "mints", you're horniness pouring from your pores, our "minty spot", male Ani listeners, and whatever capers we have on the last night. Liz Mang, we barely talked but I thought you were one of the most beautiful people I've ever met. I never told you b/c I wasn't looking for a relationship this summer. I hope to meet you later in life. And finally, Matt Bresin aka Breson, where to start? Well here we go, squirrel (ice age), T.F. , $10 of garlic knots, sumo wrestlers, 3-0 stratego, 4 horsemen of matt's apocalypse, idiot-boy, ladies man, celebrity jeopardy, T.F. and the PM's, slea solo, Albuquerque, by crikey, signs in sight singing, volleyball, fun park, and whatever else I forgot. To all I leave lunch, church, quality, and "money". May the future bring happiness, luck and prosperity.

The Last Will and Testament of Lee Gavlick

Matt and Steve- Turd Ferguson: it's a funny name, someone please say Bill Clinton and the show has reached a new low, half pound bacon cheeseburgers in record time, you have weasels on your face, and the ska band will happen. Seth and Aaron- Bela Fleck, white sox, cubs, phillies, pirates, hanging out in the room, go irish, gomes of basketball. Josh- Long ghetto, what? But seriously, listen to other music, all that rap is not good for you and you still owe me a belt. Ed- M.C. solar, Olaf metal, chopin books, that piano song I know, beginning piano naptime, attention faculty.... Naji- would you like to try a whopper value meal? Scavone- the handshake, that's disgusting, I'll come visit you a WCU this year, I promise. Studzick- Thanks for being the man all these years and letting me jam with the band. Keep in touch. Stage Crew- thanks for letting me help out when I could; it was my pleasure. Dae Kim- Maybe I'll see you at Temple someday, Go phils. Glen and Heath- The festival is not the same without you, you are missed. Special thanks to Ed and Dae for letting me hangout in your room, use your computer and eat you food. If I forgot anyone, don't hold it against me, for this was written in haste.

The Last Will and Testament of Matt Bresin

I Matt Bresin, a.k.a. the Ladies Man, here do bequeath the following items, things and sayings to the following people: Steve Micheals; SNL bits, Turd Ferguson (and the Porchmonkees). Downloading MP3's, halflife CTF, begging sight singing with Becca. Money (saying!), quality, yoink, chach, concert band, a few cases of yoohoo, garlic knots(30), the IceAge trailer, Friendly's bacon cheeseburgers, cones, stealing restaurant items, What a (blank)!, them just jokes, joshing around, scuba stevo, artwick hart, spades, strategy..... Lorna Cobb; A lesson on appropriate cursing, Lorna Doone cookies, interesting e-mails (need I say more?), many glasses of ice, a bit of innocence, have fun at Oberlin!.John Miller- chess games, chords, the third (maybe you like), the supposedly impossible queens puzzle, shires rules!, Pines of Rome, four tone multiphonics, midgets?, arranged songs in Becca's class... Franni Hoffman; Hartwick slang, the corruption of Lorna, many long talks that we never got around to, good luck at Columbia...

Vicky Dorazio- Interesting voice mails, Dan Block's arm, various pines of rome, Vixen Vicky, as many hot guys as you want...Becca Maxon- memories of your back row trio in sight singing, 9:40 on the dot, a full line of fast food apparel, best of luck in all of your studies, a little love from me...John Scavine- our many Hartwick computer problems, chach! Dae Kim- also receives a chach! Bethany Hamilton wow where did the time go? Many e-mails in the future....John Romano- a few bottles of pepto bismo.. Ariel Hyatt- A couple hot guys, the gong, ramifications, a little inhibition…Lee Gavlick- a few more CD's, Institute ska Ensemble, the five minute burger record, the ebonics language lesson. Dan Block dotted eight sixteenths, the wendy's devil burger, concert band forever, you the man! Rich Viglucci- the Italian Stallion, AOL Im's from two floors down, love letters from the girls.Sarah Gourlie- less spun kiness, a full set of programs, and I WIN! Brian Biederman- Bierman you're dormed!, bum-bum-bum, and a girl

Josh Tariff- the pointing game, a trombone, a couple lessons on ladies man impressions. Phil Howe- that Matrix video, a certain girl's number. Ben Osborne- you're awesome, hope to see you again! Ethan Nash-also the man!, hope you get to see may Mets games
And finally, to Hartwick camp; I leave memories of a better camp. To everyone I leave a happy future! If you have been accidentally left out or you just want to pick my brain I can be e-mailed at Turint98@yahoo.com. Peace and Prosperity!

The Last Will and Testament of Julia Workman

Hey you and Sam are the most competitive ratscrew players I have ever seen! You should start a league or something. Sang! Sang! Ooh-gah-ka-tang, Ooh-gah-ka-tang tang, ka tang tang! Yeah baby!

The Last Will and Testament of Nicole Anderson

To be completely honest, these past four weeks have been a blur. This is just a small attempt to clarify the month's events. So e-mail me at armybrat27@soccer.com or talk to me on AIM (My SN is toddshawnjohn). So, I, Nicole Anderson, leave: Julia- A box marked "keep right side up" to mail me my cow, belts, a sheep, gummy bears, a spot in chamber orchestra, a bow tightner, a book of rules on volleyball, the memory of Mr. Mulitated Racoon (he's decided to live with me!). Rachel- Tylenol, tape. Trudi- a watch. Sarah- naked ducks. Hannah- a garbage can, bigger closet.Delia- the memory of Ali, Todd, Sean, Becky, Victoria, allaire, Maria, Cornelia, harry, Mr. Door, money, calling cards, lollipops, gum, extra key and meal card.Allison- a non-see-through skirt. Miki- an English-Japanese dictionary. Avi- coffee beans. Nicole (my new best friend)- Harry Potter apparel, 18th and 19th century dresses, hoop skirts, corsets. Jonathan- a metronome, tape, baton, a pencil, "the Secret Garden" music book. Lee- Philadelphia orchestra apparel, a spot in the Philadelphia orchestra. 4th floor girls charles- night singing with Ethan Nash. Jordan- a machine that shrinks people's heights, a horse and donkey. Emma- a name tag that says "I'm Emma, not Bonnie," red, blue, green, and orange dots, food, tissue boxes, zebra tattoos. Meghan- a white camisole, and extra key. Thomas- an oboe, lessons.

The Last Will and Testament of Ethan Nash

I, Ethan Nash, of obsessive, compulsive mind, hereby bequeath to the Women's Choir- a steady dose of large, violent conducting gestures, scientifically constructed dynamics diagrams on the chalkboard, access to sing for the angry wolrd leaders, and one Broadway song with solo opportunities for every concert; to Rachel, Liz E, Bonnie, Shirah, Sarah, Olena, Liz B, Erin, Robyn, Becky, Lizzy, Janet, Emma & Emily (choose whatever is applicable to your respective session(s))- numerous water references, a series of large K's and other consonants accompanied by flying chalk, cheese to munch with the Gypsies, a "because it was grassy" section in all future choral works, a stairwell to sing in year-round, and a collection of balloons, ping pong balls, bizarre analogies, bouts of obsessive conductor frustration, or whatever is necessary to allow you to constantly float above the pitch…that will make all the difference; to Katie- that elusive hour of accompanying I've so adamantly refused you and a tearful guest-lights out appearance with the right "Lullaby" chords; to Dan- a slot in Chamber Choir, and a recitation of the answers to all of life's post-college queries (as soon as I figure them out) accompanied by the March of the Belgian Paratroopers; to Anne- joint custody of the 40 children taken away from us; Ali- a solidly harmonizing ensemble and an eternal offer to be your Bluebird backup; to Phil- a good bullpen, a clutch hit and a Bruce Chen no-hitter; to Josh- Jason Knoedler's free bag of Wise Potato Chips (sorry I ate the sandwich); to Erica- a new Sondheim-style show to direct (I'll hold you in the moonlight any time as long as we can sing "Under the Sea" together); to Jessica, Rich, Beth, Ed- one solid moment of good dramatic "tension" to accompany a harmonious day off, and to the entire Hartwick community I leave bats, balls, gloves, and bases for continuous softball revelry, a relaxed and convenient time for Shabbat services, and a different loaded PEZ dispenser to sit forever on every campus piano.

The Last Will and Testament of Patch Panzella

To Everyone: GOOD MORNING!!! Thanks for putting up with me during announcements this year. I had a great time. I want you to always remember 3 very important things. One…always clap for Mr. Plant. Two…always clap for Mrs. Wallace. Three… DON'T FORGET YOUR MEAL CARD!!! To Phil Howe: I still can't believe I'm older than you! To Erica Weiss: I know that we had our differences this year. We've both said or done stuff meant to annoy or bother each other. I apologize for anytime that I might have offended you. I know that it's hard to accept a new person into the traditions of the camp, and I'm sorry for changing anything that you would have liked to keep the same. You'll always be a good friend, no matter what you say about me! To Shannon Mason: Do you want to run all the way up the hill with me? And make sure you come visit me!!! I need to see you after Festival Choir. To Natasha Stefanik: I can't believe you're actually wearing jeans!! Oh, I don't have control over my hands because of my pacemaker. It's been fun, especially our conversations in the Commons with Louis. OH, I need to see you after Festival Choir. To Josh Tarriff: Hey, I understand that you want to be just like me, but don't you think impersonating me in the Counselor Show was a bit much? And one more thing….you didn't say good morning to me. To Louis Clark: Hey man, those are some really cool sunglasses. Sorry you lost them. It was fun, especially our conversations with Natasha in the Commons. To Edem Timpo: How YOU doin'? Theresa Kenyon: Don't worry, I won't hit you in that arm. Thanks for being my daughter in music theater. Amy Rosenfield: One day you and I will win a Tony for our amazing choreography on Broadway. Emily Giovine: It's been fun lifting you! Ha ha! I'll see ya around the studio. Keep dancing. Sabastien Piemonte: You're getting the couch outside my office and an alarm clock to wake you up at 3:10. Cassie Gafford: You're a dancing maniac! And stop laughing at me! Erin Alisanski: You're such a needy faculty member! Next year they should just hire me as your personal assistant. It would be easier. Thanks for a good summer and letting me perform with your class. Jason Rigby: Get out of my office!! Dan Block: Happy Birthday! Trudi Martin: Here's to an interesting year at camp. Ben Malkevitch: I'm leaving you my copy machine and my computer so you can fix it. Nathan Warner: I'm leaving you a box of rubber bands and protective goggles to protect your eyes. David Dash: For you I am leaving lessons on how to properly execute a dive roll and how to shoot rubber bands. To the Faculty and Staff: It has been a great year. I'll give anyone of you a ride in my golf cart anytime! Thanks for everything!

Thanks for the good times, the friendships, the hard work, the incredible music, and most of all the laughs. See you next year for number eight. Please keep in touch. dudzick@mail.harford.edu

The Last Will and Testament of Moira Cobb

I leave to Amanda G. and Martine M. a game of hangman where you're not allowed to guess the letters w, or h, or guess a "hooky thing." I leave to Catherine Calhoun the ability to eat ice cream. Elizabeth Oritz: your stories were the best no one can beat them! Also in the future please avoid having dreams about me. I want everyone in my part-time conducting class to know that they all did a "very nice job!" To my fellow trio members, Jessica Gonzales and Susan, I can't believe we survived Dae's teaching and actually we sounded pretty good! Don't worry I will never play an E flat reed on a B flat clarinet. (Enid please check the reeds you give people before actually giving them out! Catherine, you're a great friend I have no idea how we became friends, we are such opposites!

Last Will and Testament of Edem Timpo

I leave to my wonderful old roomie, Andrea Emond, the ability to get up in the morning in time for Festival Choir. I also leave hope for a day when we actually will speak French to each other! Loved rooming with u! I leave to my wonderful new roomie, Liz Esman… LOGIC PROBLEMS!!! (MAN- we're dorks!!!) I also leave u many fun times to come when u come visit!!! To my West Windsor buddy, Veronica Lim, I leave memories of Michael Getz… oh my! And also of Bobby Garcia… ew!! Help!! I'll be so mad if I don't see you again- so I'll see you next year! Loads of love! To my nursery school bud, Emily Rotella, I leave all the answers to life's puzzle. I also leave to her the key to living a life free of all troubles. I'm still waiting for one of your awesome massages! Yay for West Windsor!! Yay for Lick It and Chowder Pot!! Yay for Emily!! I love you, girl! To the one who knows all of my camp problems, Dana Saffron, I leave the knowledge of exactly whose (and how many) babies you want to have! I also leave you a monkey and a gorilla for you to do the choosing. (I'll stick with some scissors or sticks!) To Vicki Dorazio, I leave awesome musical talent- although there's no use, 'cause you've already got so much!!! To Nikki Brody, I leave the coolest game EVER (besides Monopoly, of course)… Frog Juice! To the Minnie Mumms, Andrea Mumm, I leave her name: I will never forget it again!! I also leave her the awesome coolness that comes with playing the harp! Rock on with your harpness, Mumsie! To Laura Duane, I leave her beautiful voice and crowds to one day hear her sing. I leave her lots and lots of food too, 'cause everybody knows that that's the way to get friends! I also leave the fact that: I'm right here! WHY CAN'T YOU FIND ME?!! To the Wawa girl, Holly Fried, I leave tons and tons of hugs- what's a Holly without her hugs?! I also leave you Laura- the perfect roommate for you. (Riling each other up! I love u guys! To Margaret, I leave our deep conversations: what is the meaning of life?! I also To Dan (the Man) Block, I leave the knowledge of your actual birth date. I also leave you the great fun of Beginning Theory- Yay! To Will Wolff, I leave the fact that if you ever get married, you should remember who your wife is- she'll like that! To the hottie!, Mr. Brian Biederman, I leave a better way to go about getting girls!!! To Ann Goering, I leave the fact that yes, he was looking at you! Also that I will always wonder who Monsieur Mystère is! To my fave piano-playing counselor, Ed Pizzi, I leave you to keep on rocking with your French rap. YAY FOR FRENCH RAP!! (Even though I've never heard it!)

The Last Will and Testament of Emily Rotella

I, EMILY ROTELLA, do hereby bequeath to Erin a copy of the song "A Baby Like That", a person who can play it on the piano, and a time we could actually perform it. Also, I leave you the ability to always stay the way you are, strong and beautiful. To Hillary I leave a pole, a video copy of Clockwork Orange, a piano, a big "V", and the ability to love, be loved, and stay true to the beauty within. To Melanie I leave a fan for those long, hot summer nights, an honorary biggest DMB fan award, and a car that can bring you back to us whenever you feel the urge to eat Commons food. To Mary I leave a long electronic arm that can reach anything in the room, no matter where you are sitting, a collection of my dirty clothes and some laundry detergent, but you can't look at my clothes, ok? Also, a seat in Women's Choir, wait, you sing? And the truth of friendship. To Molly I leave No, a free pass out of any concert that runs too long. No, an autographed picture of Fred Mills (insert twitch), an elevator all the way up to Binder, and freedom. To Mr. Fred Eaton IV, I leave a box of hair dye and something to hold on to through the pain, a teddy bear for hugging, Ciarrai (ok, I know you already have her, it just seemed to fit). The script to You're A Good Man Charlie Brown, and a few extra months to prepare it, dancing lessons, all of my love, and the knowledge that you have taught me so much about loving myself. To Ben I leave another girl, and another, and another, the room over the Agora, a piercing that doesn't make you cringe, a new hat, a goodbye kiss, seven, seven, seven, seven!, the strength to survive and overcome. To Jenni I leave a copy of the song "Take Me For Who I Am", a container of salt, a back massage, I still owe you, a little bit of Emily, a date with the entire Harlem Girls Choir, and the ability to recognize the beauty within. To Liz I leave that weird thing you can do to your eyes, a lot of good smelling things, the right notes, a seat together at any meal, No, No, No, a little bit of Ben, and all the fun that the world has to offer. To Julie, my muckluck, I leave every funny thing that ever passed between us, every laugh, every fear, all the memories, especially of one magic night, my heart, my mind, my body, and my love. To Ciarrai I leave your shoes on the ceiling, an erotic poem, movie nights, back massages, a monkey, an order for KFC, a lint roller, a Celtic anything, a license to hurt anything too annoying, the shower in the corner, air conditioning in your room, a Goth day, and everything I am, soul mate. Finally, to Erica I leave a weekend in the country, all of my clothing, a new meal ticket, a hallway you can sit in all night, "I will cut you", "so inappropriate", a leopard print, oh, anything, a life-sized Madonna blow-up doll, all of Tori Amos' CDs, a new dry erase board, a lot of little notes under your door, many more songs devoted to you, and everything of me that you already have. Be loved.
To anyone I missed, I love you. SkyHawk313@aol.com

The Last Will and Testament of Mary Olenen

I, Mary Olenen, hereby bequeath the following stuff to the following people: Suzanne: A real guy, voice cracks, Lance, girly magazines, and banana chips. Allie: Chocolate, salt and pepper, magazines, and your own dry cleaner. Dave: Real food, the crack in the ceiling, and improvisation skills. Kyle: A saltshaker, the state of Vermont, and bubble gum. Hillary: Five, wheat and cheese, Warner Brothers, and late night conversations. Melanie: Bus conversations and old people pillows. Alan: Tears, oxidized gorilla, and weird drinks. Emily: The messy room, a roomie who doesn't wake you up with a hairdryer, and a Julie. Julie: Electricity for your igloo, happiness, our talks, and the monkey. Erica: The white board accident, floor togetherness, the hand thing, and leopard print everything. Ciarrai: cooled off Twix bars, Gother than Thou, and my "Don't you hate it when…" quotes. Fred: Hugs, a Ciarrai, and facial hair dye. I know I forgot a lot of people in this, but only one thing is important right now, my Chinese food. But seriously, if I didn't mention someone, odds are, I love them anyway. Aw, crap, I forgot to say how cool my floor was. Don't you hate it when that happens? But seriously, the 2nd floor was awesome, even though 10 year olds walk the whole floor.
Now to give cool quotes: "If you want the rainbow, you have to put up with the rain"
"Never, ever, for the love of all that is holy and good, eat the chicken at the Commons."

"Ya know?"

The Last Will and Testament of Bonnie Alger

I, Bonnie Alger, being of small proportions and little voice, leave the following to these special people: Thomas Adsit- missing Amy, cuteness; Jon Babcock- proper concert attire, pictures, "No, bad!"; Sean Burton- our CMEA bashing session, someone to laugh at your jokes, my superb mastery of the madrigals music; Christine Clancy- conducting, festival orchestra, Laudate Dominium trio; Kyle de Tarnowsky- "Hi hon", breathe with the ensemble; Adrian Gnam- "Good morning", walk to breakfast, maybe I'll end up at Mercer; Ann Goering- blowing up the chair, fire alarm, our "sniffing adventure"; Sarah Gourlie- "He's so cute!", the solo in Laudate Dominium that should've been yours, women's choir, homesickness, best ever, see you at Regionals!; Suzanne Hadden- CIT orientation, the first few days, a decent guy to follow you around; Evan Hart- horn stories, whaiit?, good luck with college auditions; Catherine Hughes- your ability to make me laugh, faces, donut, trendsetter, a flock of cows, shoulder tapping, our talk on the hill, honorary floor member, I missed you 3rd session, see you in Stamford; Rachel Kantrowitz- lost mind, wandering at patio time, Chinese food, math; Rachel Miller- our bad 3rd session vocal auditions, singing soprano in festival choir; Kristin Nelson and Shirah Pollock- good luck at Ithaca, thanks for the fun times; Jessica Pahnke- spying, orchestra music, eeee!, our rejection from student recitals, little innocent pig, my "quiet" voice, whimpering, don't lead him on; Julie Schatz- Muckluck!, Tanglewood, our "love" of the violin; Spencer Martin and Renee Warnick- the patience to deal with the conducting class; 2nd Session Conducting Class- Whaiiit?, pool trip, breakfast at Renee's; 1st Session Vocal Octet- "The Road Not Taken", singing in the stairwell, Pez dispensers, world premiere performance; 3rd Session Vocal Octet- "O Captain, My Captain!", "If you were Abe Lincoln, female and dead, what voice part would you sing?"; 4th Floor Charles Side- hallway conversations, floor bonding, guest lights out, goodnight, you are all wonderful girls – thanks for making my job so easy; Ethan Nash- Jewish services, piano, stories, counselors to eat with, mealtime conversations, perfect Monday rehearsals, a correctly written German augmented 6th chord, being vertically challenged, my respect, a voice I will never forget, thank you; Emma Jensen- a pleasurable stay, your alarm clock, bonding with food, our door, prom discussion, tears for JB, "I Will Survive", knowing karate (and a few other oriental words), sharing pizza, "A Boy Like That", little mad cow, #2, being called Bonnie, twin, "I want it NOW!", yeeaahh, speaking Danish in your sleep, our deal (you owe me!), ritard, room 428, you're awesome – thanks for being a great roommate; to everyone I did not mention specifically- Thanks so much for making these past $6^{1/2}$ weeks wonderful. I've learned so much, as well as made many new friendships. I leave you all with my best wishes, several hugs, my love, many memories, and a plea to keep in touch. Always keep music in your lives and kindness in your hearts.

The Last Will and Testament of Diana Furnish

Raphi/Fael: I'll always remember that Liz has a "deemple" (dimple) and that you're not a game. You were a great stand partner, even though I would mess you up some times. Are you mad at me? I'm not mad at you. I don't care. Je m'en fou! If I spelled it wrong I'm sorry. And I hope you never forget what a hickey is. May you get one soon. "Photos stop!" Sorry I can't think of more inside jokes, but most of them were actions and mannerisms. So until I'm in Paris and I mess up your hair, au revoir! Sarah/Savah: I will miss your ability to become totally serious and get a terrific sound out of that terrible cello. I will always hold you in high respect because you are so humble and down to earth even though you are so incredibly talented. Did you enjoy your shower? I hope the two of you are having a great time in Paris again. Perhaps I will visit sometime because I know I will miss you both. Patrick/Patricio/Patty Patty 2X4: Thanks for letting us see more than we wanted of you. You have cool music and make a great DJ I'm sure. (Un-sica un-sica-sica). It was always fun to go into town with you because we could never lose you. You were super cool in your abilities of being a bellman. You should think about it. I'm glad you got over whatever and did whatever. Sorry you're so bad at telling jokes, you should really work on that. You'll never be Erez, what can I say. There's probably tons more that I'm just forgetting. It was fun hanging out with you. If you're ever in AZ, drop me a line. Jenny/Neighbie: The one for whom I am the sunshine of their life. You are such a good singer, and we all love you. You're part of the Harlem Girls Choir to me! You want to take this outside? Let's go! Just kidding. We both know you'd kick my…well you know the rest. I'll miss you! (twitch twitch) FUN…RUN…REPEL!!! (With hand motions.) And of course: (wink kiss and licking of lips.) Julie/Muck Luck: Hope you're having fun with the Eskimos! I think it's so funny that you quit violin here…at a music camp. Oh the irony. We all missed you last session! All the inside jokes you guys had were only half, because you'd always say the other half. Aww. Good ol' Muck Luck. Andrea/Canadia: You didn't change a bit from last year, except you got your braces off so of course I'm totally jealous. You are frickin' hilarious and we all missed you last session. Hope you had fun at home alone…or not so alone. We'll never forget Chuckers and the brawl that we witnessed. Hope you don't get too cold in the mountains of Canada. Levi/Levy: Ah, Levy. How I know I'll miss you and your crazy ways. Your fetish with your watch, shoes, viola and grammar. You and your pristine…ness. We'll always have theory and our joking around with Dan Block. We were the only two who stuck it out, out of all of us. You and your great imitations of…people. Don't be stupid, Levi. I HATE stupid people. Don't forget to analyze the chords. Hey, maybe I'll see you at Aspen next year…yeah right, I wish. But you never know. Have fun with your ladies in MI while you run in your crazy wigs. I had better get a photo of that. Don't forget that girls are crafty. SHINY SHOES!!! So until later…later. Hey, maybe we can be Valentines next year! Just keep the spot reserved for pseudo-valentine, unless you get lucky and get a really one. Ha ha ha. Just kidding. Emily/Elimy: You have to be one of the coolest chicks I've ever met. And so frickin hilarious. Sonbi-yeah. There's so much to write…but I can't sort of deal. I just want you to know that I totally hold you in high esteem. I'm glad you were on my floor, acting as the cornerstone and all. You're the coolest…just don't forget: I'M YOUR BIGGEST FAN! Mythos Madames/2nd floor Charlotte girls: You all know that we were the coolest floor. No question. I want you all to know that it doesn't get any better than what we had. It was the best. It was so much fun to be on such a great floor this year you guys. Thanks for the great experience. I hope you all enjoyed it as much as I did. I'll miss you all. Beiderman/Biderman: To Beiderman I leave…yeah. You are the coolest 12-year-old I know. HoooLlyy shoot! Sorry about the censoring. First time? I'm not even…you know. BINK! I can't believe that things are as ghetto as you say on Long Island. Maybe I'll visit you sometime. Nope…don't care. Once you're old and stuff and you see me on the street struttin' my stuff and you'll pull up and say, "See Diana I told you!" then I'll say, "Who is that?" "It's Brian Beiderman, remember from camp?" "Oh yeah! So how long do you need me for? An hour or so?" Ha ha ha. I can see it all now. So until that time comes. I'll see you when I see you. Stay cool Beiderman; you'll go far…with girls. We never talk anymore. Will/Will J Wolff: I can't believe that I told you all the stuff that I did. But it was fun, despite my constant embarrassment. Oh well. THE LOVE BOOAAT!!! You can be really cool Will, and I'm glad that I got to know you over this summer. You're burly…yes burly…burly. I said burly. It's hard to explain…et cetera et cetera. That thong tha-thong thong thong. I'll never forget your dancing skills and your tight shimmy. Oh man, I hope that that image never leaves me. We'll have to see each other next summer so I can get it refreshed. Try not to fondle your pecs too much…it looks…odd. But you're odd too, so I guess it all works out. JK LOL RONTFLOL;) BRB. Hope thongs—oops I mean things-- go well back at school in Maine, and in FL…and CA…and in NY. John/Durgee: That's not sketchy…it's a sketch. There's no way that that saying is an Albany thing. Hope you have fun in college where you get to meet all new girls. I'll never be able to do that thumb thing. Yeah, you're hair grew on me…but just for like…four days. Then I didn't like it anymore. I think that maybe I would give you a head massage if you initiated it, or if your hair looked really good. But, only in those circumstances. You know I'm totally kidding. Glad we were friends. You were really good at making light of difficult situations. I can't believe I showed and told you and Will as much as I did. And you guys didn't exactly keep it to yourselves. Oh well. I'll see you when I see you. Oh, great impressions…you know what I'm talking about. I'll try to be friendlier with the guys that I don't know but I say "hi" to in the hallway…sometimes, or that I'd see at a party and pretend to ignore. Lane/The Lanester: Just never forget that I'm "That Girl" and the theories behind it. I hope that you always stick to your guns on the whole never lying thing. That's pretty cool. Have fun at school even though it starts so soon. It was always fun to talk to you. Thanks for being so great with Corey. I'll miss your silver 'stang. Zach: We missed you so much in theory! You were so hilarious; even Dan missed you. You were really cool once I got to know you, and you could always make me and Liz laugh. Sorry you left so early. Liz/Leiz: So much to write. "Weellie! He's my buddy." (cheeks filled with air and winking) I'm so glad that we hung out so much this summer. It was so much fun. You've progressed so much as a violinist. And you're violin is the coolest. We'll never forget the Oneonta 1-5. "Oh my God…I'm so going to flunk this test." "The root is eee! Whoops. I mean…the root is E." The loooove boat!!! Whenever you need a laugh, just think of me walking with my arms in sync with their adjacent legs, while my head is down and my brow furled in concentration. Oh Diana, the klutz. Hope you get tons of sleep back at home. Um…there's so much it's hard to remember. "Got any bug spray?" You have enough dessert today? "Let's see…I'm going to only have one dessert a day…a meal… two a meal…ok never mind I give up." hey! how r u? This is cake…not a piece, a full one. The fly on your face at the beginning of the chamber concert we can always remember. There's also the first night when everyone picked up the benches, and a certain someone was struggling with the tedious task. Oh the melodramas of camp. Yeah, he's cut. Why is she on my bed? I don't even KNOW her! (off key and totally out of tune) HALLELUJAH! Etc. etc. It's a Li'l Jungeun! "Uh-oh. Mom's dead." Everything ties back into bad breath. They don't actually know, so you HAVE to tell them. We'll never forget Captain, John Cusack, or Chappy…not to mention many others. "Go check your mail box." Ann/Eine: "Pack it Harpo. You're not packing it pack it!" "No, but wait…it matters." You have the BEST sense of humor that keeps me laughing for so long. ICE CREAM BENCH! You were so great with my sister, thanks. Yes, I am a llama. Lalama was always a great dad. You my friend…are not a tree. But whatever floats your boat. (Flaring of nostrils while winking at the same time.) We hang out all the time, but I can't think of any jokes! YES you can borrow my hair tie. "To share" "Give to Radiskull." "YEEEAAHHH!!! Let's kick it again!" "Radiskull tired. Radiskull must sleep." "Aww. Radiskull…ok. We'll kick it later. We'll be back to kick it later." You act all crazy late at night. You're super fun Ann. I'll miss you so much! I'm marrying your brother Erik so I'm sure I'll see you around. Sarah/Harpo: The best roommate ever. So good to me giving all your stuff. Thanks. I'm so glad that we got along. You got on my case a lot, but it's cool because my mom wasn't around to do it so someone did! Never forget the gross skunk we saw, and our work out sessions in the gym. That was tons of fun. I'm glad that we were compatible in that area. Thanks for giving me so many snack ideas Harpo! "Tell me!!! Tell me!!! Tell me!!! Who are you guys talking about?! YOU GUYS!" Sorry you missed out on stuff this summer with your sister. I bet everything will be fine back at home. Eliza: It's ok that you took my shower sometimes…it's cool. You are so sweet and I'm glad that I got to know you last session. Wasn't our floor the best?! Hope you had fun. You should come back next year, even if some of us aren't. Ben Guise: YES! You can borrow my sunglasses! You should get a new favorite hat. You work on that. You're super cool. Glad I got you know you this year! Dan Block: DAN BLOCK!!! Happy birthday Dan Block. You were the coolest theory teacher ever. I wish I could learn SAT stuff from you…oh well. I live too far away. Hope you liked the bananas I gave you in the morning and my sarcastic remarks from the back of the room. Don't die Dan Block. We'll always remember Zach: "But that's crazy Dan." Leander/ Lee Ann Chang: You were pretty cool Leander. Glad we hung out a bit this year. Try not to break any more cymbals, or if you do…try to hide it!

The Last Will and Testament of Sarah Gourlie

I, Sarah Gourlie, hereby leave the following: To Best Friend Dan- our best friendship, and the bass clarinet FOREVER, to Michaela- stolen festival choir music, to Matt Bresin- my spunkiness, my program, kicking your feet, and YOU LOSE!, to Kristin Nelson- taking me out, interpretive dancing, leaving notes on DB's car, encouraging notes on your board, and I WANT TO BE YOU ☺, to Bonnie- the best women's choir solos, talking about best ever CT people and trashing CMEA, to Emma- ushering together and the butterfly dance, to Kyle- my cuteness and our stand partner connection that will last forever, to Miss Cassie- Mary Beth Kirkpatrick?… shut UP, everyone's favorite camper, walks to the health center, and being observant, to Ed Pizzi- best registration group EVER and my flipping pens, to Sarah and Rose- you guys were great counselors, I really enjoyed our floor, to Liz and Manda- gum on my butt – thanks, to Alicia- nutrigrain bars, random packages, talking about everything late at night, and I hope you'll be able to find another roommate who will take care of you (spoil you) as much as I did, to Dae Kim- my recording of David Shifrin playing Mozart and my roommate, to Ethan- that crucial moment when I was half your age and you started your Pez collection, to Dan Block- our musical moment together – you'll never forget me! Noel: 1)I have a fever, and the only prescription is more cowbell 2)Sean Connery.

The Last Will and Testament of Matt Melore

Shannon- random pictures in Smith Lounge, another Dorian Quintet encore?, that music sounds like "Psycho", the Boston Pops excite me, it's weeds, Ben Folds Five rocks, smiling out of the blue, scandalous outfit, you have a dirty mind. Rachel- Flexy the Spanish -----, that doesn't rhyme with dame, random animal noises in the farm song, why to you need 2 of those?, and one glows in the dark, they take one battery each. Steve- I'm so bootylicious, you can't handle this, I've got this jello, Jiminy Glick, I'm a survivor, whoa-oh, "I can't see Walmart, it's too foggy, this is horrible" Sebastian- in 20 years will contact Rachel again and get married, Spaztian, sitting on the hill in boxers, "let me feel that hair, so soft and fluffy", Sebastian's fresh squeezed orange juice, look for the box with Sebastian's face on it, this tastes like crap, you need better oranges, playing with the picture cube.

The Last Will and Testament of Sarah Wooten

I, Sarah Wootton, would like to leave the following things to the following people as my last will and testament upon my departure from Hartwick College.To Nicole Anderson, I leave a naked duck and a stair-day in Workshop. To Kyle de Tarnowsky, I leave you with the end of "Yo mamma", a be-mean-to-Kyle-IM-day, lots of pokes (followed by squeaks), "suck it up", a descending chromatic scale, all the Disney songs, and a piano part to my flute sonatas. Operatic Olivia and Adequate Josh, I leave you with orange, opal, Oregon, open-minded, oval, orangutan, and all other words that start with o. Rina, I leave you with mail in your mailbox (with glitter on the edges!), and two very short parents. To Emma, I leave, as instructed, nothing at all. I leave the second session conducting class a didgerydoo concerto, Hershey Kisses, and "whaaaaiiit?". To Seth, my stand partner, I leave endless games of hangman and all of Danzon. Jessica Gonzalez, I leave you with The Beatles, trying to get Erin to sleep, "Don't even talk to me!", late-night intellectual talks, and the best of luck sophomore year. Allison, I leave you allisoniscool 1123, abc123, retarded IM's, and Macintosh downloads on a Windows computer. Olivia, I also leave you with no-shoes-ensemble day, talk, coffee, other words that sound funny with a Jersey accent, Ithaca, and Pt. Pleasant. To all of those people and everyone I forgot, I leave you with great memories. I also would like to thank you all for a great summer.

The Last Will and Testament of Suzanne Hadden

Suzanne Hadden leaves friends the following stuff: Allie- "a neck", junk food and girly mags, boyz, and our cheezy dance moves. Mary- girly mags, fine cuisine, and stuff. Alan- Chinese and see…food, Mary's bed. Dan1- backrubs, good time in London. Kyle- truth or dare, boring conversations online. Erin- Jared, coffee, and all the boys! Jesse- Hard Knock Life. Josh- Chicken Run. Lance- stuff. Stacy and Jessica- wiggles finger/grin and the piano incident. Bonnie and Emma- Friendly's. Everyone- A great summer.

The Last Will and Testament of Carly Lemire

Laura- you are now in the conga line, never forget determined Aaron and ignorant Avi, and CUPPY ROCKS! I'm leaving you a green shirt and Cuppy. Anna- pizza rocks, keep swimming, forgive Will, you need new dance moves, I'm leaving you cool nail polish colors, better dancing skills, and a swimsuit. (Oh and Chocolate Peanut Butter Swirl ice cream.) Jackie- Seriously??? EPISCOPALIANS FOREVER! (haha), 25 all the way, and I'll never be able to look at a pear again. "Why did the chicken cross the road? To get to the other side. Why did Jackie get hit by a car crossing the road? Because she was carrying a tuba." I'm leaving you 2 pear. (Oh, and I AM boring). Thomas- you're mine (haha), yes, ice cream for breakfast!, and we love bananas and strawberries. I'm leaving you your extra pencil, I guess. Whatever. Michelle M.- You're a cool roommate, Sunchips are yummy, Beauty is the best book ever!!, your poster hates me, Linkin Park rocks, and Bond really helps you fall asleep. I'm leaving you nothing because you already have all the cool stuff in the world. Sara A- Yes, your hair CAN straighten!, keep reading palms, I'll try but I won't get as good as you. I'm leaving you my hair straightener. Liz- Always remember you're 7 feet!, I can't believe you're now with salt, and you left me too! I'm leaving you really tall shoes. Eliza- You're confusing, but I like you anyway. I'm leaving you stuff. David- Lesbian sumo wrestlers!, SnapSnapHit (I can finally almost do it!), Woo…over your head, the best IV shows: the Simpsons, Who's Line Is It Anyway?, I Love Lucy, AND ER IS THE BEST! So there. Never stop watching the turtles race and the porch monkeys, too. I am and always will be right and taller than you. You hold a pen weird. "Aww, you're jealous, how cute, aww." Hehehe. I'm leaving you better golf scores, the show ER, and forever the memory of the unforgettable Lesbian Sumo Wrestlers (and stairs suck, you have too much energy). Michelle A.- We're cool!, we are and always will be leading the Cool Conga Line (and Laura was watching from afar with Cuppy), I love your hair, I'm the 4 D's: dumb, dorky, deprived, and deformed. Am I forgetting one? We will always be cool. Roommates next year, 4 weeks! "You know what's funny? Your face." No Shoot Sherlock! Gilmore Girls is cool, with the god-like guy. DODGE THEM, BE CAREFUL. I can't believe we never noticed that statue by Anderson. Nelly F, Nelly, Eminem, Rap rocks! "Be there or be square!" (SpongebBob Square Pants) My old flame and Rambi (Gumbi, Rami, Bambi). Our fave person, K.O.! Cool Mike- You are ..... Extremely Cool!

The Last Will and Testament of Daniel Swern

I've always believed that the greatest memory of a person one can have is that of a person's smile. Everything else is built around that gesture of joy. The eyes, the blowing hair, the full lips. All of it can create the real image of happiness one may look for when they miss someone very much. I've met so many of you during my short time here and created so many friendships, that it would be too much to list everything I'd leave to everyone. So instead, I leave you all with a bit of advice: Whenever you feel sad or lost inside, think of all the faces you've encountered in your life. But mostly, remember the smiles. For those people that are dear to you most will never be too far because as their faces are in your mind, their love will always be in your heart.

The Last Will and Testament of Ann Goering

I, Ann Goering, can definitely not follow the "rules" for these wills! Ahhh! So for some of you, you get "something", and others… just memories. Why are things are so hard for me?! So here goes: To all my coaches, directors and teachers this summer: Thank you so much for all of your help and faith in me. You really make a difference to me. I can't thank you enough for the opportunities and advice that you have given me these past two years. I won't forget you and I hope to see you in the future. Bonnie and Emma: Beef Queen and amme! You guys were such great CITs. Emma, thanks so much for your help with the MK act. The couch was fun while it lasted, but it did sleep in your room. . . Sniff, sniff, sniff! That night was nuts! Thanks for the goldfish and the fun! Jessica: Thanks for running such a tight ship on our floor. All my campers: I knew some of you better than others, but you were all so much fun to hang out with and to talk to. I was really glad that I got to know you guys and I will definitely miss you all. Thanks for the laughter and the tears. Kelsey: my only roommate! Corey: My first camper! Rachel: You are sooo funny! Delia: My most dormed camper…Terri: You had to deal with sooo much stuff! I don't know how you dealt. You are so sweet, funny and mature (despite what OTHERS may think…). I'm so glad you were on my floor! Eli: Oh you little gossip! We missed you a lot 3rd session! Have fun in Europe! Eileen: "He's obsessed with me!" Liz: my Liesy! To you I leave lots and lots and lots of desserts from the commons! Mmmm! Thanks for picking me up and letting me stay with you. The summer went ok. I wouldn't have come if you hadn't. We did have some good times. It's hard to have a bad time when I'm around you! And now for the best of this summers memories: The airport escapade. "And I had a salad." The "albino" "The doctors live over there." Don-na! Danny Devito. The fair! Was it a fair or a carnival? Your craaaaaazy friends! Wicka!!! That first night here with her, the music and the dragons who were watching over you. Your ADD. Permanently brown. All your boyfriends. "I hate you" "I'm dying" Brahms! Getting some. . . voicemail. Our first session institute quintet. What da hill? Leann Chang. Pahcussion. Too tired for friendship? Sew it on a pillow. How do you say: Exit, water, home, cold, etc. "or no" ijan! Patch! All those comments that we made that people overheard. All those faces we made caused by strange stand partners. Having stand partners that smell like bad perfume and mold and others that cannot turn pages correctly (Candy!) Can you wink and flare? Doing that neck and shoulder thing. "he's/she's a strange duck" "Lady in red!" Vla and Vln In the practice room with Lane. The pause that occurs after I say anything while your brain catches up. Julia. More Julia. More Julia. Pact number 1&2. How they are so alike and just won't admit it. That crazy day of Patrick. They look like spaceshoes! Haha. Give to Radiskull! Playing in symphony orch for the last session- ahhh! "Fire! Fire!" "I fall asleep better when I'm really tired." "Exactly!!!" All our names for our favorite people: Alien, Firecracker, Pizza Girl- so many names for one we never talk to. John Cusack, Chappy, Julia, Skirter, Tommy, Candy, Ogre, the Egg, the Christmas tree, the Piller, Wicka, Mr. Wicka, the odd one, Juice, and others. Weird first session Zach and his moccasins. Julia Goulia- wait, who IS that?! Ahhh there is SOOO much more stuff, but I just can't think anymore. I know we'll stay in touch. Come visit me in Kansas. Diana: Deone! "I'm kind because I give people presents" "Your mom" I am the Radiskull, and I will kill you all! You make a great devil doll. To tired for friendship? My guns. Vla and Vln. "You're still De-one" Institute piano first session with lies, my crazy cousin and Juice. You are a great llama too. Who's Ronnie? The Borodin. Me beating you at crazy 8's. "Spikes and Clovers" Ice cream bench! Your posters that I can't stand. Oh I didn't realize that we were in ensembles together every session until just now. Wow. Hmmm. And also- you were on my floor. For a while at least. Yeah. So you go and have fun in Arizona and come visit me in Kansas. Ok? Patrick: Patricio! Hey Cuz! What's up? I leave you a new pair of nazi boots. And a nazi shirt. And ice spiker! I liked talking to you. Our first real talk on the bus from Tanglewood.

Our phone calls. First session institute with your god, Diana and juice. And the Brahms second session. Getting mad at you for not coming to dress on time. The Elgar on my voice mail. Joe! Joe! Joe! You always make me laugh, even when I don't want to. Looking ALL over town for a haircut and ice spiker(s)! ☺ Your ring... yeah. Getting married to Liz @ the park. Using my rosin. Sniffing my rosin. Liking my rosin. Party Explosions Inc. "n-sicka-n-sicka..." "can you eat that in two bites?" Thanks for the advice on a MD player. I still need info. Email me, k? We missed you so much during the last session. Keep in touch! Levi: Mich! Vla and vln. Viola power! Flipping too many pages during the performance of Tch. 4. Showing each other where we are- just like someone else we know. . . Me asking "What's that note?" I got out of playing the Barber! Haha! "I'm going to shoot you- with a rubber band." Good luck at Michigan. You know you're going there. ☺ Let me know what's going on next year! See ya! My French Buddies: You guys were so much fun to work with and I am so glad that I know you. So many jokes, but the music was better. Thanks so much for coming. It was great hearing you play, playing with you and talking to both of you. I'll see you soon- the next time I'm in Paris! I'll miss you! Sarah: It's just so wrong to write your real name. So ignore that and let's just go with "Harpo"! Oh Harpo- you are the best! You have helped me so much this summer. You are the best. . . I already said that. You wiseacre, you. "It doesn't matter. Nothing matters." The first real talk at the park. 100% of the people asking means no more secret. How's Eli? Giving each other those looks. "yeah yeah yeah" "I know" "yeah I can see that" "Who?" "What?" How is one great? What is greatness? All of my questions! Your laugh. My little Dinosaur! The land before time. You are the original llama namer. Saved By the Bell: the web site, descriptions of all the episodes, and that long night we spent focused on the show. "What is art? Is art art?" Your original love and then his little bro who is an ever better match. Julia is a Mormon. . . Dunksters, "Sarah. . . Blau" hiding from counselors in my closet, the moths in my room, the window star, your knitting. "foreign funny". John Marshall and "John Marshall". You saying "that's not true" all through convocation. "Harpo, we're HUGE!" "She's so high school" and someone we know who is really high school. "Scuba!" You fixing my meal card with tape. Me laughing and then refusing to tell you what I was thinking about. All our late nights. Me being a dog. Your crazy lamp. All your stories about. . . yeah. "What is the '86 for?" You are totally not 15. Your favorite color is burgundy. The irony of musicians wearing black and white. Julia! Pact #1! Pact #2 and how it was never ever fair to you. You poor, poor thing! "What did Julia say?" Her fake accent. The poster situation. "Sucks to be you" Your boarding school dreams. "Is this where God lives?" I want to see baby pictures! John pushing for you to dread your hair. He's the one wearing all the eye make-up. The hanging/ writhing object/creature on the ceiling of Anderson Theater. Teaching me to say mobile. Oh well, I still can't say it right. Your dragon: Dragonann! Our right-on fortune cookies- they better be true. You drinking like a horse. Boblau and your imitation of him. Sissy and her bro. Disliking "hehe". All of our trips into town to go to Eckard and P&C. "My sister's boyfriend is a delinquent." Crazy Wills Mills. Thanks for all the gum and the use of your computer. Thanks for calling Julliard at 2:30 in the morning. I felt so bad about you having to deal with the odd one. "Harpo: one. Elevator: zero." 436-9966 and the rest of your super memory. Syrup with everything. How you always remember all those little details. You can always get almost anything out of me. You getting mad at me for me just being dumb- but I'm still not telling you. Having to share music at Festival Choir. Choose your own adventure books! The boxcar children. The country harp book. Getting bad deals on bulk water. The Planet of the Apes. Taking pictures in the theater. Your ghetto camera breaking. All of your ghetto stuff. Your crazy silk pillows. Your three alarm clocks- until Patrick took one and didn't give it back. The head hanging in your room. . . How the blow pops used to be oval and are now round. BuzzBee. Vornado- the best fan! You working in the Festival Office so much that you can recite all the teachers in alphabetical order from memory. Don't forget to read Brave New World. Talking to Leann Chang. What he left for you in his will. ☺ I'll miss you like crazy! You are the best! And you are definitely coming to Kansas for the first time this year to visit me while I am miserable all by myself with no one who really listens or cares or can tell that I am upset or can give me such good advice. Keep dancing and sticking by what you believe. You are great to me and that's what matters. I can't tell you how much you have helped me this summer. Thank you.

The Last Will and Testament of Rachel Miller

The Chorale – There is nothing that I could give to my chorale buddies (and you know who you are) that would be as good as the memories you already have of chorale-time. Sweaty people and lack of circulation to anything below the knees, tickling, shrieking, Dave's doughboy noises, and our deep conversations, like the time we discovered that Festival Choir is just one huge sexual metaphor. I hope those will be enough, and I can't wait to see you all again. Until then, remember no shoes, 14 and up, only. Rina S. – Well, it's been a long summer and it's been a fast summer, but there's no question that it's been a great summer. I take you back to when we first met and the day we moved in, when we realized that our mothers were the same person. We set up all 1600 of our fans and put our matching picture frames out, lent out our scissors a few times, my mom went on a rampage in the bathroom, etc. First session was, well…we sat around and threw dice in the air, how exciting could it have been? Although I did enjoy sitting up with you and talking about your Dave-id, even if I can count the number of times I've been to the bathroom since May 19th. I was and still am amused by our dying-bird noises (I'm still working on them), and I had a great time the first time we did laundry…there was a full moon that night, right? Second session was awesome too, but I mean, how could anything top the chorale? I have to say we definitely grew closer those two weeks. The bug-shoe became established, and the suitcase became communal (WalMart is your god, what with the hair in the China food…), and even then there was memorable quotes. And even though the last session has been sad, I'm still having so much fun with you, talking about God know what (and who, e.g. chip and dale) into the small hours of the morning. Finally I'd like to remind you that you are a sheep, and that no matter how persistent you may be now, you will eventually come to realize that Becky and I are right, it's Alien Bread man. You have to come visit me in NY (who wouldn't want to get out of Pennsylvania?) and we will definitely be talking a lot this year. Have an awesome time in Tanglewood and I'll talk to you real soon, now I'm gonna go brood. Becky C. – My fellow Westchesterian and fantasy fan; it was so great to get to know you this summer and talk about home and stereotypes and Vanyel and to make fun of Pennsylvania. Although, down there they probably get a lot of animals like deer and butterballs (aka groundchucks) and those deer that you love so much. From the first day, back when you were scissors girl, there are too many jokes and funny lines to recall, like, "Darn, a sandwich!" and "If I crapped flowers, they would definitely be orchids…". I've had a great time making fun of Oneonta with you (jaywalking can cause serious accidents) and scouting out the mafia, contemplating chiropraction, adding on to my nickname, marveling at the tattoo in the store window, and even annoying Rina by not paying any attention to her (Rina, if you're reading this, just picture me talking right over you). I still never got my coffee, but even If I die coffeeless, at least I'm not going to be itchy (to be honest, I don't remember how we got around to that…). Since I can't think of much right now, and I have to hand this in, I'm cutting it short. I'm really happy that you live in White Plains (drug infested though it may be) because at least you're near me. We'll be seeing a lot of each other, I guarantee it, and talking even more. I'll probably see you soon, but have a great rest-of-the summer anyway! Louis M. – to you I leave, above all else, the Wisdom of the Black Elk: "He is within all things, he is above all things and peoples." I leave you the literary masterpiece about you and your Chihuahua, Peep, and the evil Labamba (he won), along with all of our other concert-commentaries, including "those Ipaneman girls are hot", "echo in the elevator", and "if they're paratroopers, why are they marching?" I leave you my favorite phrase so you'll never forget me: "It was kinky…" and of course "putting the instrument in the case… is that what they're calling it now?" I'm going to miss your sense of humor and seeing you everyday. I'm going to miss your sexy Rachel jokes, and I'm going to miss you. I'll think of you every time I open a fortune cookie, because we both know what it's going to say… Keep in touch, Handsome Lake, who knows when I'll need a good "Shut up, Rachel"? Colin L. – To my daddy/lover #2, I wish I could put you in my duffle bag and take you home with me! You are a beautiful person with an amazing voice (and dashing green eyes) and I hate to say goodbye. You can have my arm to hold anytime, and I'll always be listening for your call of "my dwarf", so that whenever you need me, I'll come to your side and "make you happy". I hope to talk to you this year and see you again soon, because without you I am just a shivering lonely child with a nameless third appendage… Ben C. – To my favorite tenor and the best brother ever; you have no idea how happy I am to have gotten to know you this summer. You are, by far, one of the most awesome people I've ever met (even if you are a freshman, which I still don/'t believe). I leave you a water bottle, to drink the backwash out of or "chuck: at me, whichever you choose. Just give me a heads up. Make sure to write to me or call me, because even though Colin may call it incestuous, I love you and I'll miss you! Sara B. – To you I leave a buns-of-steel video to work that tight butt of yours and some tissues to wipe Lindsay's sparkles off of your naturally beautiful face! I'm so glad to have met you, fellow sufferer of PAD (if you've forgotten what is, think: green folder) and I wish we had had more time together. I promise you that someday soon, everybody will get to know how amazing you are and not only will you get that guy, but you'll get credit for your yearbook pictures, too. Have a great year, and anytime you may be reading this, give me a call. I miss you already! Dave C. – To you I leave the "No Shame, it's all about the game" t-shirt, and I expect you to wear it. I'll put a picture of a group of girls on it, girls of all ages, which reminds me, what're the pedophile laws in Georgia, Dave? I leave you with me, "don't you dare tickle me" look and my best mother quote: "It's all fun and games till someone loses an eye." Finally, I'd like to thank you for starting the chorale…it'll never hope to be the same without you. Lindsay L. – To you I leave my listening skills and patience, so you can talk about boys for the rest of your life. Oh wait. You probably will anyway. Just kidding hun, you know I loved talkin' all the way home from Glimmerglass with you about our 6th grade boyfriends. I suppose instead that

I'll leave you with something you can't get from anyone else: my insults. By the way, Linds, watch 'ya sitting on?' Is that a note? Hope to hear from you soon! My Vocal Ensemble – To you I leave a graduated cylinder, so that you may always remember to "be the meniscus", and I expect you to think of us whenever you see water or hear trumpets… I'm going to miss singing with you and wasting our rehearsal time by telling stories about our 5th grade teachers. If you were Able Lincoln, dead, and female, what voice part would you be? Ethan N. – To you I leave one think only, my gratefulness. Thank you for introducing me to this camp, I had the time of my life and only you to thank for it. You have been a wonderful teacher and mentor, and I realize now how lucky I am to have your guidance all year round. Thanks again, and remember, at least he didn't throw the cello at my head (p/s/ It's a hemiola!). Elizabeth B. – To you I leave my wardrobe, or at least my sweaters and tops anyway. I'm glad to have ,met you this summer, and I'm going to miss being your mommy. I hope I see you again soon, and if not, then you better come back next summer! Keep in touch, dear! All my love, Rachel A. Miller(AKA Dead Sexy Woolly Ginger Dwarf Bitter Alien Bread Man, AKA CocoChanelle, AKA Darn Well Appetizing & Rather Fine)

The Last Will and Testament of Avital Drucker

Avital Drucker, and His Many Magical Gifts: To my friends, I give these: Robin, the Art of Cuddling; Erica, my favorite diseases; Cassie, the difference between a Quaker and an Amish person; Emily, the Art of Speaking Jewish; Rebecca, the Art of Shoe Removal; Max, the Russian Sailor's Dance, boots and all; Andrea, a nice viola part; Ashley, one week of no practicing; Meagan, some even dressier pants;
Tom, a horn that isn't broken in two; Allison, a non-vibrating, well, you know; Leah, the lead clarinet solos in festival; Liz, a game of screwy rat every evening; Katie, an email, as soon as I can, honestly; Leander, some quiet time; And a rose for all my female friends that I have and haven't mentioned (guys can instead receive a pink slip and that 2.50 you need to send a rose to someone else but are too lazy to get and send out otherwise.)

The Last Will and Testament of Elizabeth Boyea

To third floor left – How did all the coolest people in the camp end up on the third floor together? You guys are so awesome. We had a good time. Remember Gong night – no – you guys didn't suck! Remember Eleanor and the fire drill – floor bonding and Laura's birthday party. I'm gonna miss you guys. Luv ya!! Laura and Holly – Thanks for the birthday package and the shoes. Keep up the fun! Christine – Thanks for "helping" me "teach" Veronica how to dance! The towel and the bandanna. Festival and women's Choir. Stay Cool. Laurie – Beadtastic! Diction class would be so boring without you. IPA rules! Don't ever do laundry if you don't have to. Remember taking the braids out – Chinese food – promise ring – and tons of other things. Keep in touch. Sam and Margaret – Hi! We became good friends cause you guys are so funny. Rat Screw forever! Caley – Girl, you are CRAZY! Thanks for keeping me and V awake in the morning – especially after the 3 day/8 hour thing. Cool hat – don't forget to take your calcium pills! Festival choir and sight singing would not have been the same without you. Keep in touch. Veronica – Yo! What's kickin' G? Wow – There's so much to say I don't know where to start. I was so nervous when I got here and my roommate didn't show up. I'm really glad I got you instead of (?). We became really good friends these last two weeks. I've never been friends with someone who is as quirky as me. We have so much in common – it's kinda scary. I still don't know what to make of it. Remember Caley in the morning (wow!) Rebbermar, your stupid dance, Jubilate De-O (ha-ha!), the bee sting, the little creature we saw on the way back that you wanted to chase, "oh say can you –achoo!", and the stupid ideas of all-nighters (fun but so stupid). The two trumpet guys (the mean one and Curious George), Gospel song disease (twitch, twitch – I hope I don't catch it!). And don't forget about the DT idea (totally serious). Cow tipping – (remember – slowly!). And of course – Dyslexicity! Our 20-minute walk to breakfast, the fire drill in the morning when you were in the shower. (ha-ha!). Morning massages at the health center – nope never mind – Don't feel like walking. The telepathic mind thing, chicken, soda and ice cream for breakfast, your weird noise, your stalker, the Tanglewood trip (mash and the survival book – "you're holding your cards backwards!"), checkers, (there's no place left to go!), trying to teach you how to dance, chocolate milkshakes (yum!), never eat pixie sticks, your life poem, schway, CRAZY, awright, the fact that you can sing and dance you just don't know it yet, cheez-its and grapes, caramel cookie bars at 3:30 AM (I told you they were good!), mad swole (what?!) Don't go nam on me!, your theories, your summer reading (that so didn't happen!), Dorm checks – (shoes still on your feet and keys around your neck), But Mom!, dehydration, and the fact that we are the most popular people on the floor and everybody loves us because we are so cool. I think I've covered every aspect of camp I can remember at the moment. These two weeks went by really fast and I got a new awesome friend out of it. I'm gonna miss you. Keep in touch.

The Last Will and Testament of Veronica Lim

Yo Liz – How's it kickin, G?! For this "Will & Testament," I leave you 2 weeks worth of fun, crazy, and telepathic" times. In case you're not convinced, here's a list of things we did that prove that we're really very insane and stupid (but really 'smart' in our OWN way.) It all stated w/ the duct tape idea! Don't tell anyone about it. We'll get a patent; Hmmmmm . . .SODA (ice cream) for breakfast, lunch and dinner; your obsession w/ "Curious George." Haha! 30 Kids, photography, and Jared as your pet! What? You like Cheez-its and grapes too?! "Yoo-bill-ah-tay deh-oh" Don't forget my theories! Unevolution of humans, Hannibal the Cannibal and Moses = Matrix. 8 hours of sleep in 3 nights – Yeah, baby yeah! LAZY as ANYTHING, and proud of it! Haha – remember how slow we walked in the morning?? "That's CRAZY!" Thanks for "teaching" me how to dance. Liz, why'd you make me hold that bee? It stung! "mad swoll," "shway," "mackin," "sweet it hardcore," "word!" Secrets about how to get out of talking to someone on the phone. Haha! I do that too! Tips on cow tipping! Thanks for directions on the greatest art from Ellenburg! I'm inspired by Caley's energy! Careful – don't catch the Gospel-song diseases!! It's CRAZY! Danies to keep in mind – the rubber person/octopus/jellyfish dance, and the other one w/ the hands. Lets not forget "Dystlexisicity." Whenever in doubt, blame it on society. Haha. Thanks for the Pez – they're G-R-R-R-EAT! Anyway Liz, the list goes on, but if I were to list all the fun times I've had with you it'd take up too much room, and id be writing for hours. In all honesty though – you are definitely the coolest roommate/singer/cheerleader I've ever met; And also definitely one of the most "shway" people I've ever known. (in the history of me knowing people, that is). Here's some parting advice and sappiness for you to ponder: Be yourself, you're awesome and stay strong. Keep focused –you're a great singer and person. Don't change or compromise for anything. As Pook says, "Wonder. Dream. Be." Only you can prevent forest fires. And lastly, keep in touch with your good friend Ver. She's a gem. <grin>

The Last will and Testament of Christa Wagner

John: glasses with scary eyeballs, change for a 20, mixing pudding (eww), scary old men that attack young girls, beep, beep, beep...thud, Disney sing-a-longs. Aaron: rides on the dolly, "if my brother does something to make you angry, I didn't teach it to him," drinking Frappacino all the way home, Superman (if you fly someday!) 3rd floors' catch of the week. Andrew: Allison! (but only on Fridays), anger management classes (there's no need to throw bottles when you know bassoonists are the best!), clapping too loudly during concerts. Bobby: birthday stealer! Thanks for coming! Bassoonists rock! Josh: little solos during Festival Orchestra. Thanks for coming! Bassoonists rock! Jack: bassoonamafying! gopher! excellent, excellent, dirty old men playing the trumpet, sun sticks, it's just a dull thud and then it's all over, Eric Clapton (over and over), clapping during band, jig, pregnant girl, spotlight Mr. Plant, my instrument is worth more than your life, take 5 steps back and then break into a run. Joe: I am God (we won't mention Jesus and his, er, disciples), Pepto Bismal, little black "cougars," jig, gummi bears, little solos during Festival Choir, hello Mr. Rage! hello Mr. Jealousy! Rachel: I never get mail, beep, beep, beep...thud, pregnant girl, music history notes, French horn lessons, running around the shower to escape the moths, time waiting for me to put my bassoon away, fun run! giggly girls from your floor, decorating my room when you were bored. Meredith: scarred! excellent, excellent, waking up at 3 am to ask for a thermometer, Wal-Mart trip! she was sharp again! beep, beep, beep...thud, I definitely lost my key this time, ow! my toe! Christa, where's your flashlight? (aka sun stick!), pregnant girl, visits to the health center (or lack there of), oy! I know I'm not Jewish, Russia is a threat to our space program, having dizzy spells and falling on the floor, Andy Upan forever and ever, trying to braid my hair, wittle James, whose baby is this under my foot?

The Last Will and Testament of Meredith Gansner

My dear friends, before I depart back to the miserable grime of Morristown, NJ, I want to tell you that despite my sometimes-disapproving glances, I will miss you all terribly. My only comfort lies in the fact that lucky Christa is in walking distance of my house. Whenever I get too scared I can always haul myself over to her house and curl up in a fetal position on her doorstep until she lets me in. However, to the rest of my posse, should I be brave as to call you that, I leave you bits of my infamous wit and "charm." John: I cannot believe you lost your dude glasses. You looked exactly like the scary guy from Roger Rabbit. "Take me home with you, don't leave me here." Andrew: (Allison on Saturday) I still don't know where I know you from...but give me time. And maybe, if you don't cue me in during quintet, I will steal your tuner. Aaron: Boom-chucks and John Williams forever. Jordan: Leave my valve oil alone, and stop poking me! Steve: Your hair is intoxicated! I am so...so...sorry! P.S. Learn to transpose! Rich: You are one dangerous and sexy clarinet player. What were you doing today? Getting a haircut? Hmm? You are the coolest! Katrina: Beware of rabid fleas carrying syringes. Mary: The graceful Mr. Soto leaps from tree to tree. Mr. Jums! Rachel: White fuzzies on black shirts forever! I'll never forget Christa's face when she walked in and saw our decorating job! Meredith! Jack: Stop your hands from peeling! I loved Mr. Jums: "Hee, hee, the answer, my friend, is blowin' in the wind." GOPHER! Did you capture it yet? Obviously not! And you want all the glory for it, too, don't you? Mocha Frappacino. No more Norwegian Bears for you! The letter 3! Did you just call me Kermit? As the comic, but oh so nerdy, relief, sunsticks definitely are for hitting Joe with! Yes, I am one cool nerd. Luv ya, and see you in NJYS! Joe: So much I can say to you, so little time and space. Watch out for evil senile nurses who leave shots in your arm. Never forget the horn and trombone are equal, except the horn is more equal than others. Thanks for all the walks and stealing my meal card! YOu crazy socialist! I've forgiven you. Maybe. You might want to read the Bible and get the stories straight. Oh well. I love you, Joe (laughs uproariously) Hello Mr. Jealousy! No, really Joe, I love ya! I'll miss ya, too! XOXO. Christa: Ah, so much to say to my roommate. Christa, do you have a thermometer? Let's go flush ourselves down the toilets! I have a very cool unlocking-door talent. All applaud now! Don't fall asleep with your Discman on and please make sure your pants don't fall on your head. Andy Upan forever and ever! Let's go bassooning! Look, Christa, a car! I swear it really was a mountain lion! Really! I still haven't written Chris back, oh well. You have fantastic horn skills. Remember that "dead fish." The 500-year-old rat in the sewer with the black plague that I will write a book about. Don't ever forget the talented bassoon trick we learned in YO. Hello, my name is ____, you might remember me from such movies as "Who baby is this under my foot?" or "My saxophone at the laundry" or "A gorilla ate my mother." Yeah. Or "My pet monkey Bobo eats garbage!" The monkey! Oh boy! Well, you've been an awesome roommate and friend. I'm glad you live right nearby. Unfortunately, so does Seth and his tube sock!

The Last Will and Testament of Stephanie Madden

Even though I'm still very much alive (5 on the deadness scale) I hereby will the following memories to the following people: Erin L.: "Jinx, you owe me a Pepsi," Tuesday night fever, my attempts at staring, bacteria colonies + moths, strange people (luggage boy, the trombone section and many more), jazz history. Stephanie: Frenh horn and theory lessons, acorn whistles, finding your soul mate (Leaf Boy), my attempts at staring, manic-depressive gremlins. Nicole: emotional relationships with pizza, my attempts at staring, your numbers. Thomas: jazz history, shooting grass. Jena: sneaking up on people, finding your soul mate. Erin H.: Tuesday night fever, my attempts at staring.

The Last Will and Testament of Elizabeth Bonomo, Rebecca Dragonetti, and Lisa Raylesburg

To our townies: How come you never gave Becky some beads? Becky, how come the superhero of the week award never went to your invisible ____? This is a chicken of a situation. She had rings on her fingers and bells on toes. He's got a ring where nobody knows. Vicki, we'll miss you and your stolen ___ living on your wall. Play the bear! Play the damn Bear! I need to hear the Bear. Is he naked? No? Oh...so the other lions are deaf. Wait...I don't get it! Lisa, can you do me a favor? Yeah?! Do it again! Lisa, do me a favor - stop talking. Mission Monopoly: cake or pie? I want to eat him for lunch with a spoon. Ok...so the stick is negative, the bottle is positive. I didn't see that it was wrong! Oh my god - where is my deodorant? This is serious - I can't find it! It's not even funny. These pants...should be illegal. You don't even know. Ya? Ya? Ya? Ya? You killed the radiance, Lisa....on a stick. 4 girls on a bed...I know it! To the Matts: Happy 4th of July. Frog Prince Marie, Billy Bob the Prince of Charming, Sir Andrews Duke a les filles, Chicken Little, Goosey Loosey, ...Ducky, Lays who (why does Lisa always get stuck with the messed up names?), my name's How, Frito How, Tostitos Why, The H and the W, the Hen, the Toad, (not the FROG! The toad!), the Farmer, the Little Green Man, Holly Poly Chicken Prune, and Ben your name is...sorry, can't tell. The B-I-B-L-E yes that's the book for me. I stand alone on the word of god the B-I-B-L-E. The T-E-M-P-L-E yes that's the house for me. I stand alone of the word of god the T-E-M-P-L-E. Santa: so what do you want this X-mas, little girl? I want a new Yamaha and a new driedel. Let's have a party, we'll...all read the Torah? If you see a China man say hi! It's so frick-IN hot out here!!! Corey, say frickin. Becky: in a room, throwing a tantrum and jumping around in circles. I HAVE A CRUSH ON US! It's my noodle goose! LISA! I WANNA...BUT YOU DON'T HEAR ME COMPLAINING! Becky Cohen: tonight for dinner - ramen noodles. Erin, we leave you a 16 year-old boy from Idaho going into the army. Matt: you're our guidance counselor, where will we be without you? Matt B.: Lisa has confidence in you (you're killing the joke). Meredith: Wuz up? Becky: when you get excited your voice spikes an octave Let's all take a moment of silence, but first LISA has something to say. You guys, help me up! BOOM! Wait, I'm gonna fall! CRASH! STOP YOU'RE SCARING ME! But we're not ditzy on purpose - LISA, I LOVE YOU. Singing in the shower. Laugh, laugh, sigh....Elizabeth, you're in my head. Elizabeth, you're a doll - I KNOW! Becky - you're confusing me - I'm confusing YOU? Lisa: you're thinking way too hard. What? I don't get it. What would you do if I bit you? What's that in the middle of the road? Becky, get your bra out of our room. Matt: the tie. We leave you the Febreeze. Patrick: we leave you Vaseline. Lisa really IS smart. Wait, I don't get it. Will: who's a good girl? Will, SHUT UP! I'll always be your little sister!! Our Vicki's too Vickilicious for ya, babe. John, we'll miss you so much. Elizabeth, are you copying me? Lisa are YOU copying me? EXERCISES. To Kristin: I leave you a boy who is French. Dana and Nikki: I love the Frog Game! I NEED to read the Alex letter. Shaving parties, veggie tales, and magical dragon SOAP. ORD: you will always be ORD. The meaning of life is Chicken. The Chicken goes what? Quack quack. Lisa, you're dumb. Lisa, tell me a story. Becky and Elizabeth: nap time on buses, I swear to god. Lisa was sitting on the other side. I swear to GOSH. Gosh - tee hee. Elizabeth: sing to me! Heard of something stupid, it was stupid. Lisa what does that mean? Mommy's a...Stupid, dumb parents - HI MOMMY! Fun run - no China Food! Yes, if you hit yourself in the head it will begin to hurt. Smile and nod. Lisa, say nostalgia. Ok, Lisa? Ok, Lorna? Ok. Don't worry, it's ok, F. It's really fine, S. Don't feel bad, C. Hey, Lisa. He's mocking me! Gong show? What gong show? Dear Becky, hehehaha. Why is there a pin on your sweatshirt?! Bekcy and Elizabeth: I leave you my sweaters. To Rona: you fixed me. Patrick, I love your pick-up lines. Bonowana Shanamo: Harmonies with the phone. To all those who knew up and to all those who didn't, thank you for being there for us and putting up with us! We love you! To our counselors, thank you for being so cool! To our floor, we love you, what would we do without you? To all our friends, you made our time here the best it could be!

P.S. Chicken! Quack quack

The Last Will and Testament of Nicolette Brody

I, Nicolette Brody, leave the following items to...Andrea: self-tanner, another bed so I can sleep on yours, disney soundtracks, a box to store the stuff I leave in your room all the time, a magical potion to make you not shy, tickle-squeaks, spinning carnival rides, Linkin Park, German operas, a bigger backseat for your car. Ben: a real six pack, a box of cereal that is only marshmallows, European dancing lessons, skiing naked, extra shirts so you don't have to wear the same one 2 days in a row, night-time fun in my room, "Awww...you're stupid," tweezers for your toes. Lisa: the froggy game, me being just as stupid as you and Dana. Cary: a masseuse of your own, monkey faces, sexy rocks, the holes in that fence. Matt: a better Aladdin costume, a Whole New World, rehearsals way too early in the morning, volunteering in improv. Mike T.: a joke book, a real tuba instead of a wannabe, more razors to shave your legs. Bobby: Snapples from the bookstore in brown paper bags, me attempting to play the bass, general music hangman. Becca: peace and quiet, funny pictures of campers/counselors, better behavior in sightsinging, shirts from fast-food restaurants, awesome floor bonding. Meredith: key signature flashcards, composer hangman, a key for Rm. 210. Dan: something hard but soft, a wrench, nail polish remover, a masseuse of your own, my body. John: something to make you not so 'excited' all the time, a picture of Dana and you-know-who doing you-know-what. Mike C.: trumpetmobile, good luck with your girls, "Stop it, you silly goose" Isaac: a smart car, extra time in your combo. Will: a name tag that says god, "Quacktastic," rehearsals way too early in the morning, girls your age. Vicki: potato head, the Hartwick movie cast, stolen pictures. Michelle: Benji, Blink 182 and grandpa, my NFG CDs. Louis: thick Altoids, looking AND touching, random quacking. Dana: tripping 10 times a day, alien stuffed animals, pink lemons, Brandon and George, a hot monkey, a gorilla, a "regular" Hartwick duck, Kyle, the naked game, "Don," a hippo and a monkey...doing what?, a tree that has been shot in the foot, yummy piano players, Fred Mills in his birthday suit, my clothes, a devil cow, talking to the pictures in your pillow, people passing by our window and walking upstairs, the robot walk, marriage to a duck, nicknames like defective dumb/devilish Dana, Faith, the orange dress, dreams about cutting hair, A.D.I.D.A.S., naptime with Nikki, trumpet and sax lessons, both kinds of Starburst, people playing instruments in your bed, delivery guys to have babies with, free time from 1-2, doing the J.D., fire hazard lamp, scary Yager poster, hyperventilating, a mini carousel horse, a bar to walk into (ow), a mean devil. To everyone: I had an amazing time this summer making music, European dancing, and checking out faculty members. You better come back next year so we can do it all over again!

The Last Will and Testament of Kristina Saar

I, Kristina Saar, leave messages and inside jokes that I would like my friends and myself to remember: Ben Z- The first thing I have to say is, Ben, you're such an idiot....just kidding! I will laugh every time I think of when you sat on the hill and watched those people make out..haha! Thank you for playing Cupid for me, even though it didn't work too well. And thanks for being such a great friend even though I acted "permanently cranky". Next year, You have to teach me to tango! Matt- Music History was so much fun when we had to follow along with Beethoven's 5th Symphony(even though we had no clue where we were half the time!) By the way I really don't know what's wrong with Lee! Ben G-You and Leah can take the elevator, I'll take the stairs. Lee-Even though the basis of most of our conversations were usually about the latest gossip from Leah's love life, I still enjoyed every one of them. Hopefully next year, we can really get to know each other. By the way, thanks for showing me the stars. Leah- I think we did some pretty stupid stuff these past two weeks, but we also made a lot of great memories that I will never forget. I will always remember how loud you screamed when "Harry the Killer Squirrel" jumped out at you. Remember the security guy that yelled at us and the cat the almost jumped out our window? The free stuff we got was awesome! I will never forgive you for stopping the elevator(Well, maybe I will...lol). The elevator chase was so much fun, though. I will always remember how you fell every minute or so. I think we became great friends and we will definitely have to come back next year! Love to you all and I'll see you next year!

The Last Will and Testament of Shannon Scott

I, Shannon Scott, leave my newly found cueing and trilling abilities to my quintet and our coach, Spencer Martin.

The Last Will and Testament of Annie Salluzo

I would first like to give all my gratitude to all the faculty, staff, counselors and campers who have befriended me. I can only leave a lasting friendship. Laurie, I leave you all my blessing with your faith in religion; it shows great strength. Jessica, I can only leave you plenty of envelopes so you can stay in touch with me through the school year. I can't wait to hear from you about marching band. Please don't forget the cat appearing outside the "Commons" trying to attack the gopher…"do you think someone can find some food for that cat?". Let's not forget concert band with our favorite, Dan Block. We had a lot of fun in that class. Also our floor decorating, and our lovely balloon designs. They certainly were unique. To Ali, I will never forget our brief ensemble rehearsals. They were certainly effective and we performed well. Haidy, thank you for always sympathizing with me when I moaned and groaned. It was very nice to have open ear for me to be listened to. Erica, I am amazed by your unique, individual style. To some it may appear strange, but to me it is terrific and incredible! I leave you plenty of Coca Cola. Now do you think I can see the cow? I'm not like Tuba Dan who hurts and mutilates Cecil! Ciarrai, you rock, what can I say? You and Fred are a wonderful couple and I can only wish you many years together. I also leave you a bag of Doritos to replace the ones that disappeared from the lounge. Eliza, I leave you and open ear and an everlasting friendship, and until we meet again.

To Ben- A swim at the pool, a steady girl, my sweater. To Katrina- early breakfasts, jazz combo, camping talks. To Meghan- your tightness, some ice cream and cheese, and the retarded standing ovation. To Bob- You're the Man. To Bryan- Anthropology and a picnic. To Eric, Teddy Bears and 'Whut Up!'. Jason Rigby- awesome shoes, more sleep, sunbathing. To Jenna, More outward bound stories, clothes modeling, New Orleans, banana republic, Gumo, stay tight. Jenni- your song I want to learn. To everyone- I leave an amazing summer. To Everyone- Please Keep in Touch I'd love to hear from everyone.

The Last Will and Testament of Rachel Fong

I, Rachel Fong, leave the following to my dear Hartwick 2001 friends: Christa: "Hi! My name is _____, you may have seen me in the movie Who's Baby Is This Under My Foot? My saxophone ate my laundry and a gorilla attacked my mother" "What happens if you get the hiccups while you're playing?" "Maybe he fell asleep and died for a few minutes", the pregnant girl, "Oh my god! Her water broke!", an expensive bassoon, $5 to rent a date. Mmeridath: a map so you don't get lost, wheels for your horn case, pen and paper to write your book which you will never finish, a big cow/deer/mountain lion/cat that goes "MMEEOOWW", Disney songs, bandages that stay on your toe, Whack! "Guys! My CD player won't work! Whack! Adam: "Don't be a banana, be a carrot!" tuning practice, 3rd position in Dvorak, "I just discovered that I have a mailbox!" "Who do you think posted all those special schedules?" Delia & Julia: fake tears all the way! Delia: boring chamber music and a real oboe. Julia: do you ever stop practicing? Joe and Jack: Excellent! Nicole R.: blowing the music to keep it down, my viola, new rosin, Tchaik IV Andrea: the talent to make a bridge for the whole entire universe and beyond.

The Last Will and Testament of Erica L. Weiss

There is so much love and so many funny things that I have in my heart and mind to bequeath to everyone, that it's almost overwhelming. Of course, that probably means that I will end up forgetting a ton of people on this thing, because, frankly (as I wave my hands in that way I have), it's late and I'm tired. So…I've decided that, rather than write a typical will, I'd explain to you all just how much you and this festival have meant to me these past eight years. It doesn't matter if you've been here for years and years, or only for two weeks this summer. Being up here at this festival, you've all been touched by something special. I arrived here a shy, reserved, and terrified 11 year-old. Obviously, much has changed, and so many of those changes are due to the time I've spent here. I hope that I have in some way helped to make people's time here a little bit more enjoyable, or at the very least, more interesting. OK, this is where I get really cheesy: My goal in life is to love as much as possible, and I hope I've left a lot of love here. All I want is to make an impact, artistically, musically, but most of all, emotionally. Those of you who are close to me, you know this, you know how I feel about you, and I want you always as a part of my life. Even if I never see you again, you will never dissapear from my heart and memory. Listen to Dr. Bob: It's all about the music, people! I love you all so much it hurts. Please don't forget me, I'll never forget this place or all of the amazing human beings I've encountered here. Thank you for everything.
