To Music (a sonnet)
Language universal, fill us with joy
Send us soaring like a dove or a pigeon
You are loyal, honest, but do not cloy
Conveying emotion and religion
Sweet are you, melody, harmony too
Intertwining lines of sadness and bliss
Enrapture us in everything you do
Tantalizing all with your magic kiss
So take me, wrap me in your arms of song
Come rescue me from darkness and despair
Save me before the fire's burned too long
Shield me from scorching sun, my skin is fair
To music, dear music, my greatest love
My comfort and savior from up above

written by Bonnie Alger

You know you've been at Hartwick too long when...
1. Josh starts to look hot.
2. The bug next to your bed is now named Sam.
3. Using the rain as a shower seems halfway decent.
4. You go to play a softball game and get tackled.
5. When you actually turn in one of these to get Liz to shut up.

Top 6 reasons why back massages would be a scheduled part of rehearsals (Inspired by Ali's ensemble class)

1. They relax you
2. They encourage teamwork (once you've had your back muscles crunched by someone, how can you compete?)
3. They feel incredibly nice
4. Can you spell motivator?
5. Your muscles, especially your singy ones, work better when they're loose, as opposed to wooden and hard.
6. They feel REALLY GOOD

Various stages of Gordy the gorilla:

-dressed for 4th of july (and holding a flag)
-gave blood (and even had the first time donor sticker)
-went swimming (wearing goggles)
-apparently visited his brother Nathan
-worked for stage crew (backstage pass for Harborfest and red suspenders)
-a visit from a certain mascot from last year (hint- it's a cow)

Jazz by Sarah Cagianese

Creative vibe, melody in your breath
Jazz is in your body, a scent you can't forget
You can feel it in your feet, a tapping that can't be stopped
The excitement in the air, before the first beat drops
A breath of sweet harmony, a calm and mellow place
An atmosphere to feed your ears, not just a taste
You can flow it into style, you can make it from your soul
But its important to remember,
It's a sound you can't control.

It's time to unbake the bread

Ways to Freak-Out Your Roommate

1. Smile, all the time. Happy tregas!
2. Listen to radio static
3. Whenever you go to sleep, start jumping on your bed…do so for a while, then jump really high and act like you hit your head on the ceiling. Crumple onto your bed and fake like you were knocked out…use this method to fall asleep…every night for a month.
4. Fake a heart attack. When your roommate gets the counselors to come, pretend nothing happened.
5. Whenever your cell phone rings, get up and answer the door.
6. Whenever someone knocks, get up and answer the phone.
7. Spend all your money on Transformers. Play with them at night. If your roommate says anything, tell him/her with a straight face, They're more than meets the eye._
8. Get some hair. Disperse it around your roommate's head while he/she is asleep. Keep a pair of scissors by your bed. Snicker at your roommate every morning.
9. Trash your room when your roommate is not around. Then leave and wait for your roommate to come back. When he/she does, walk in and act surprised. Say, _Uh-oh, it looks like THEY were here again._
10. Draw a tiny, black spot on your arm. Make it bigger every day. Look at it and say, _It_s spreading, it_s spreading!_
11. Buy a plant. Sleep with it at night. Talk to it. After a few weeks, start to argue with it loudly. Then yell, _I can_t live in he same room with you,_ storm out of the room and slam the door. Get rid of the plant, but keep the pot. Refuse to discuss the plant ever again.
12. Collect hundreds of pens and pile them on one side of the room. Keep one pencil on the other side of the room. Laugh at the pencil.
13. Every time your roommate comes in, immediately turn off the lights and go to bed. When he/she leaves, get up loudly and yell, _Okay guys, you can come out now!_
14. Talk back to your Rice Krispies. All of a sudden, act offended, throw the bowl on the floor and kick it. Refuse to clean it up, explaining, "No, I want to watch them suffer."
15. Scatter stuffed animals around the room. Put party hats on them. Play loud music. When your roommate walks in, turn off the music, take off the party hats, put away the stuffed animals and say, _Well, it was fun while it lasted._
16. Set up about twenty plants in an organized formation. When your roommate walks in, pretend to be in the middle of delivering a speech to the plants. Whisper to them, We'll continue this later,_ while eyeing your roommate suspiciously.
17. Keep some worms in a shoebox. When doing homework, go and consult with the worms every so often. Then become angry, shout at the worms that they're stupid and they don't know what they are talking about.
18. As soon as your roommate turns off the light at night, begin singing famous operas as loud as you can. When your roommate turns on the light, look around and pretend to be confused.
19. Whenever your roommate sneezes, go and hide in the closet for about an hour. Look around nervously for the rest of the day.

More of: you know you've been at Hartwick too long when…

Your roommate is your therapist
You swear it was the chipmunk that stole your flute
You start to wonder who Charlotte and Charles Smith were
You don't expect the toilets to work
You have a physical attraction to a tuba
You find yourself on a "fun run"
You enjoy stairs
You start dreaming about faculty members
The lunch ladies know you by name
Everything's a song
Bugs aren't that bad
You have convos in the shower
Even a trip to WalMart's an adventure
Even you have 79 cent flip flops from WalMart
You have "Wick" written across your behind
Even you can sightread or fake it well
Most of the clothes in your closet aren't yours
You can write a six-part harmony for "on your floor!"
When you change with the door open and don't care
When you have a combination accent
When you know how to "lay the smackdown" and "make it happen"

"The Incipid Race", by Emily Stone
(with the help of some of the one-week campers from 5th week)

The ways of the common dog also apply in this case. They yip for joy as they incipidly wag their big atrocious tongues. Their playful activeness can also apply to the common chimpanzee. They also seem to have the brainspan as a wild turkey. Who in state gobble around their stringy head in places it shouldn't be. Now the saying "don't play with your food" does not apply to this creature. They will touch and sniff everything.

Like the wolf, they travel in packs. Except for the two stray weak ones who travel alone, hoping to be accepted by the alpha wolf, who continually begins his greatness by following the older and taller gender. In which they have decided would make their pack stronger and more sophisticated.

The alpha "wolf/dog/pig/chicken/turkey" is marked in the color of its own personal needs. There is one type of alpha male in wolves. The strongest wolf will fight, his tail will stick in the proper position, and the loser will have the tail between his legs. The alpha during my second day of study I have realized the ways of the alpha. The alpha always tries to act superior to the other wolves.

There is always the pre-alpha, such as the way they try to be accepted in his circle. The pre-alpha will accept no others without the alpha's consent. There are six things that make up an alpha male.
1. Strength for power
2. Evil for stature
3. Humoristy to attract mates and companions
4. Insipidness for higher levels of achievement.
5. Boldness for attention
6. Cunning for more maternal companions

But in certain times of life, the insipid creatures will take pride in only one or maybe even two things, such as whatever his maternal growth (their mother) makes him. When they are at certain ages they will gradually take pride. During their loss of tooth stage, they are really, really stupid! Then they become more and more, how can I say this…well, I can't.

During my time at camp, I have found many many many of these so-called beings. Most of these "things" will be in homes at the camp. At times I will discover more and perhaps next year I will give out more information. Maybe someday you will guess or maybe you have already or maybe you already know. And you can join me in my so-called "scientific discovery".

The Museum:

Ah, the modern art, the confusing bags on the wall, the weird wanna-be Indian memorabilia…If you've ever set foot inside the renowned Yager Museum, you'll know what I'm talking about. Or, if you belong to the other 99% of the population which sees the first floor of Yager as just another short cut to the elevator, you'll be thinking, "wait, there's a museum to go with the gift shop?"

In truth, yes there is. I went once, on a lazy Saturday my first week here, before I realized it "just wasn't cool." My roommate Christina and I strolled through the dim rooms, looking at photographs of Einstein and Picasso, marveling at ancient pottery, and avoiding eye contact with the scary college students with laptops that reside in the gallery year round. While we may not have learned a lot about what "wonderful", "excellent," or even "good" art is, We certainly discovered what is isn't. I strongly recommend you take the same voyage of learning that we did. And then stop at the lovely gift shop on your way out.

Set Design

Do you love designing sets? Are you good with power tools? Can you be in a room and reasonably awake at 9 am? Its sounds like you belong in set design!

Serioulsy, this was a tremendously fun class. Each session we designed the set that the musical theater production would use. First session this basically meant just hunting up tables, chairs, and lots of coffee cups. Second session, we actually built platforms, painted them, and made period-authentic costumes (right….). Through it all, we've been flawlessly guided by Stephen Busche and Jen Moros. They could handle anything. Paint on your hands? Wash it off. Platform collapse on your foot? Walk it off! Get your head stuck in some stud wall? Knock it off!

Truthfully, if you stayed alert in this class, you could really learn a lot.

We even spent a whole day experimenting with lighting and color. Now, if someone tocks you off, you can join your local tech crew and make them look green, or 2-D, or construct a trap door to get them out of your hair. And finally, this class was yet another opportunity to work with trained professionals in their "home environment," complete with rickety trucks, bats, and screw guns.

- Miranda Pennington.

Intro to Opera

During Session 2, several students took the introduction to Opera Class. The class, which was taught by Lorena Guillen, explored the components of opera and its history, dating back from the late 16th century. During the class, students were able to watch and listen to various operas, such as Handel's Julius Caesar and Monteverdi's The Coronation of Popper. The class even had the option to see Haydn's *Orlando Paladino*at the Glimmerglas Opera house. Overall, the class was interesting, informative, and enjoyable.

Beginning Sightsinging- Dae & Allison

Ah..the joyous sound of beginning sightsinging. Do-Re-Mi-Fa-Sol…

Come and sing along in our merry class. Of course, it's the best class ever because Dae, Allison, and Gordy teach it. YEEHAAW! They're so cool! Dae is like an Aisan version of a California Valley boy. Picture this: Him saying "Hi" (In his high pitched voice and angelic smile) "Oh-wow-that's so cool." "Oh my God, hot-dog!" haha, Then he would give us all weird looks….yea ok. But this class is awesome. We love it.

Advanced Theory- Mariano Vales

As bunches of tired eyed campers enter their "Advanced" theory class they are greeted by an even more tired eyed Mariano. As the group plows through figured bass and cadences, Liz Lee breaks into random laughter which isn't that random when you see it through the eyes of Liz Lee. However there are things Mariano say that are funny through the eyes of anyone, such as: "You can't pluck a flute", "sharped" (w/accent) "So if I shook you when you were in a coffin, would you make a noise", "When on the guitar, you play around with your G-string": And so much more. Plus, the Spanish accent as tired as the students may have been, they would always leave the class bright eyed, chuckling and a little more knowledgeable on "advanced" theory.

FUN RUN

Once upon a time, there were two Avid runners. One, a trumpet player (need we say more); and the other one a far from "graceful" violinist, both denying the non-athletic.

"This one time at band camp" schema, they strived to add a little athleticism to our humble music agenda. Not to say it was always really all about the RUNNING, as much as WHO ELSE would be there. Hence, the Oneonta FUN RUN/ Single Club IS BORN.

Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 9:05 sharp, these fearless "contestants" would bravely hike up to the track (a.k.a.- the meeting grounds) to exercise. It all begins innocently enough- Nathan yelling "Circle it up!" and everyone joining hands to stretch. After we all limber up, we hit the turf.

Time flows by, and after many laps are successfully completed, "Let's bring it in" echoes throughout the land. With these fateful words, the raucous festivities come to an end. With sweat dripping, from even the slowest "jock walker's" n brow, the gang slowly ventures back to their dorms to shower.

All-in-all, the complete success of the Oneonta Fun Run/ Singles Club was due to those two avid runners who encountered each other a mere six weeks ago. Let's give one last "Fun Run Clap," and remember all those bittersweet laps up on the Binder Turf.

Recipe for the 2002 HCSMF&I Treble Vocal Octet

Ingredients

4 faithful 6-week singers (Bonnie Alger, Nadine Ford, Cassie Gafford, Emma Jensen)
3 1st session daredevils (Kim Ayers, Erin Shannon, Lauryn Sullivan)
2 2nd session participants (Sam Grenell-Zaidman, Clare Maloney)
3 3rd session members (Nikki Brody, Liz Lee, Susan P)
1 1st and 2nd session Alto 1 (Becky Nathanson)
1 2nd and 3rd session Soprano 1 (Miranda Pennington)
1 conductor/piano man/leader of us all (Ethan Nash)

Directions

1. For 1st session: place Lauryn and Cassie on 1st soprano, Kim and Emma on 2nd soprano, Bonnie and Becky on 1st alto, Erin and Nadine on 2nd alto.
2. Complain upon realization that rehearsals will be held in Shineman Chapel.
3. Rejoice upon discovering that Shineman is air conditioned and it's a quicker walk to lunch.
4. Train them to become accustomed to the contemporary chord progressions of composer and conductor Ethan Nash while learning "Sanctus" and "Agnus Dei", movements from his mass.
5. Improvise during the ensembles concert, but nail the pieces for the performance for the parents.
6. For 2nd session: subsitute Sam and Miranda for Cassie and Lauryn. Replace Kim with Cassie on 2nd soprano. Substitute Bonnie with Clare. Move Bonnie to 2nd alto, replacing Erin.
7. Audition for the American music recital with Williams' "Exultate Justi."
8. Perform in American music recital under the kindness of Susannah Stayter.
9. Learn the Holst "Ave Maria", an 8-part piece, to the point of being able to rehearse it while giving backrubs, without music, and without a conductor.
10. Argue over whether or not we should perform the piece without Ethan.
11. Decide to perform the piece without music, but with a conductor. Present 4 near perfect performances.

12. For 3rd session: substitute Liz for Sam on 1st soprano. Move Bonnie back to 1st alto (where she really belongs). Have Nikki replace Becky on 1st alto. Susan joins Nadine on 2nd alto.
13. Move from the chapel to the Agora upon an eviction order, courtesy of the ministers (some nerve).
14. Attempt to sing Brahms "Ave Maria" and Ethan's "Jubilate Deo".
15. Beautiful singing "attracts" members of the stage crew.
16. Come to the realization that every piece the octet has worked on has been of religious content and has been in Latin.
17. Try to run a rehearsal without Ethan and without piano skills...yeah, right.

Warnings
The dish may be tainted with lack of eye contact, the claw, disagreements, and crazy conducting gestures.

Absolute Musts
A perfect blend, venting sessions, nap time, unusual chords, singing music that sounds like something Ethan has written (even if he hasn't written it), Pez dispensers, random stories, friendship.

Carefully mix together, turn up the volume, cook with enthusiasm, and enjoy!

BEGINNING THEORY with ALI

This Summer, I took beginning theory with Ali, the senior counselor on my floor.

Ali made theory fun as well as really educational. It was the only theory class I didn't fall asleep in. Hooray!

IMPROVISATION ENSEMBLE by Alyssa Van Thoen

"Today you're going to show me how well you know all of your mixolydian and blues scales," says Nathan Warner, instructor of the intermediate improvisation ensemble. Two weeks ago, this sentence would have terrified me. I had heard of blues scales, but I didn't know how to play them. And I had never even heard the term "mixolydian". I'm a cellist, and cellists just don't deal with all that..jazz stuff.

But believe it or not, this cellist has been dealing with all that jazz stuff every day for the past month. I started in the beginner group, taught by bassist Robert Sabin. We learned about the blues form, the basic rules of improvisation, and also about the- as Bob would say- "bacon fatty" sound that is jazz. We played "Bag's Groove" incessantly, and we began to look at the blues scales and modes. The beginner class was a lot of fun, and even though it didn't turn me into an incredible jazz cellist, it gave me three things I had never had before- a creative outlet through my instrument, an a appreciation for jazz, and a blister on the tip of my right index finger from walking a bass line.

For the next session, I fully expected to be placed in the beginner group again. I didn't think I was ready for all the theory involved in the intermediate class. But apparently someone thought I was ready, because there I was one morning, listening to Nathan Warner inform us of the beauty of the blues scales. And then somehow I learned how to play all the blues scales, and then all the mixolydian scales, and somehow I learned to incorporate the theory into playing actual music. So while I may not be a fabulous jazz musician (yet), I am no longer clueless when it comes to improvisation.

Festival Orchestra

Week 4 at Hartwick College Summer Music Festival, the orchestra played Mahler's First Symphony. This was a big challenge for the brass section especially, to master in one week. There was also a lot of controversy on whether or not the horn section should stand. Katie said "I would not come to see this piece performed unless the horns stand." Even though the horns sat, the performance went very well with some good conducting by Mr. Schneider.

Hartwick Survival List

Staying away from home for an extended period of time can be difficult. There are always the fights against being homesick, and resisting the urge to strangle your roommate. In order to cope with life at Hartwick, it is essential to know just what you have to make it easier for yourself.

It's time to unmake the beds

First off, every student needs a towel. Heaven forbid you get caught in the shower during a firedrill without one. They also come in quite handy for those morning trips to binder.

Fans are another necessity; Perfect for cooling your overheated room down to a bearable temperature, or annoying your roommate while they sleep.

Rugs are also a good thing to have around. After slamming your alarm off much too early in the morning, it's always nice to step on your favorite animal or an underwater fish scene though a cold floor littered with crumbs, bugs and dirty laundry.

Another item of importance is an alarm clock. Although there are times when you would like nothing more than to chuck it across the room and listen to the thud it makes as it crashes to the floor, it is needed to make certain you don't sleep through Festival Choir.

As everyone knows to be cautious about what they eat at the commons, it is definitely a good idea to equip your room with a fridge. This way, when you wake up in the middle of the night, there's always that frozen pizza left over from Saturday, or the sushi you're keeping for the camper down the hall.

Keeping all this in mind, it will be lots easier to deal with the intense life that is HCSMF & I. Oh yes, and one last thing, don't forget the bug spray!

A letter actually written by James Chwalyk Jr and left under Jeff Dudzick's dorm room door:
Dear Mr. Dudzick,

I'd like to inform you, with 24 hours advanced notice, that I'd like a stand moved. The stand is currently located in its incorrect position on point A4 on Slade stage in Yager Hall (see diagram A). I would like the stand to be relocated to its correct spot on point A5 on Slade stage (see diagram B). Thank you 24 hours in advance

4th of July Spectacular

Sporting a slick white suit, Rhys Tivey blared out the final strains of the Star Spangled Banner, and the 4th of July Spectacular was underway. The camp had gathered in Forman Gallery and what resulted was a wonderful display of patriotism, spirit and talent. Liz Lee, Emily Shrair and Kara McCabe (dressed in Red, White & Blue respectively) hosted the evening's festivities as a great variety of acts took the stage… there was a medley of American favorites played the Tuba Ensemble of James Chwalyk, Madison Martineau, Aaron Sorrell, Dan Kinsman and Mike Mulcunry, an original patriotic poem by Christina Peragine, a pair of jazz groups presenting "Independence Day Jams," and a solo song by Becky Nathanson. Then a pair of Brass Quintets; one, of course, was our very own Bulldog Brass Ensemble; the other, in a unique twist, had Aaron Sorrel, James Chwalyk, Katie Caliendo and Oliver Pratt joined by Ben Sorrell on, of all things, soprano saxophone for a stirring rendition of the Washington Post March. The evening culminated with a very enjoyable "Sing Along with Ethan," as he first paid tribute to his high school classmate, Matthew Horning (who worked in the World Trade Center) with a powerful rendition of "God Bless the USA." Some good American favorites followed, Let it Be, Country Roads, and everyone's favorite, American Pie (with ALL the verses). The Women's Choir sent everyone home smiling with "God Bless America" (accompanied by the fine pyrotechnic display of Allison Sulock and Jen Moros) and it was off to Yager Field for a water balloon toss and the world famous Oneonta Fireworks!!!

The Day the Health Inspector Came

"Good morning (1 to 10 active, 1 to 25 resting), how is everyone today?"

And so began "the Day the Health Inspector Came." We had long awaited his arrival, practiced walking in groups, staying within "ear to mouth" distance of counselors, signing in at all locations during free time… but now it was judgement day! It was time to walk from Slade to Shineman Chapel as a group in the spirit of unity. It was time for campers to spend lots of quality time with their counselors. It was time to be sure to drink lots of water and to "wash our hands" before eating.

You could cut the tension with a knife… where is he? Is it that guy with the beard? Is he in the dorm now? Wait, I heard he's in the kitchen… one report had a camper accidentally complaining about the sanitary nature, or lack thereof, of the ice cream scoop while the health inspector was within earshot. Some said that the health inspector might pop in disguised as a security guard, as a cleaning lady, as Mary from Commons, possibly even as Dr. Wallace.

But when the dust had settled, and all saw what had occurred… the Hartwick College Summer Music Festival emerged with a clean bill of health! No violations! "The Day the Health Inspector Came" had a happy ending after all!

The Josh & Ethan Softball World Series…

Once upon a time, there were great competitive softball games here at Hartwick (in fact, in August of 1991, there was a most compelling 7-6 battle in a Friday night game on the turf at the end of Week 5). And then, slowly, the cheers died down, campers stopped bringing gloves with them, and softball became just a distant memory… until 2002! Ladies and Gentlmen, the 2002 Josh Tariff vs. Ethan Nash Hartwick College Summer Music Festival Softball World Series!

The stakes were set… a best of 7 series, a victory by Josh would have Ethan delivering announcements dressed in Yankees attire, while Ethan's emerging victorious was to land Josh in front of the crowd at announcements in a dress. The stage was set. It was time to play ball…

In Game 1, up on the turf field (just like in the good old days), led by the spirited captain, Ivan Rosenberg, and the able pitching of Elyssa Plotkin, Ethan's team took the early lead in the series with a 7-5 victory. Game 2 saw the action shifting to Wilber Park; in a small game with ever changing personnel (due to an injury, and many players deciding they would rather play soccer or play on the playground), Josh not only evened the series, but also the total score, with an identical 7-5 victory. With the hype for the series growing, they turned out in droves for Game 3 (Ethan recalls batting 17th in the order). Due to the superb pitching of Max Schwartz, the spectacular defense of Alf Hadinger in left field and Hannah Button at shortstop and the clutch hitting of Marissa Besner (2 doubles) and many more, Josh's team jumped out to an 8-0 lead. The shutout was not to be, as Ethan's team began mounting a comeback in the final inning, but alas, they came up short, falling 8-3.

And so, it was on to the crucial Game 4, with Ethan trying to even the series at 2-2, and Josh trying to take a commanding 3-1 lead. And for most of the game, it looked like things would in fact be evening up. Ethan's team jumped out to a commanding 9-3 lead and showed no sign of relenting. For the first time in years, the daylight lasted long enough for a Music Festival game to actually reach the 7th inning stretch (and a most spirited rendition of Take Me Out to the Ballgame was sung by all in attendance). It would be a 9 inning game, and with 2 outs in the top of the 8th, it was still 9-3… but then the hits started coming. Lucas Button got a key hit with the bases loaded to close the gap to 9-6 and meanwhile, Mike Laskey on the mound was giving up nothing. Josh's team plated a whopping 5 runs in the top of the 9th and held on, retiring the potential tying run for the last out in the bottom of the 9th for an 11-9 victory.

Ethan astutely pointed out the next morning that the Kansas City Royals had in fact rallied from a 3-1 deficit to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals in the 1985. Quoting Yogi Berra's "It ain't over till it's over," Ethan took the field for the pivotal Game 5. His team jumped out to an early 2-0 lead, fell behind 4-2, but then quickly evened the score at 4-4. And then Josh's team just started hitting the ball and Ethan's team stopped catching it. The floodgates opened, and Josh's team soared to a 10-4 lead. Despite superb defense by Josh Braid and Peter Cipparone, Ethan's team couldn't stop the onslaught. Meanwhile, even the most solid line shots by Ethan's team were no match for the stellar defense of Anna Michael and Teddy Sizer. Despite a rally in the 9th inning, a near 3 run homer by Ethan that snuck foul, the series ended with Josh emerging victorious, 10-6.

And so, keeping true to his word, Ethan took the stage the next morning sporting an authentic Yankees jersey and hat and a large "Go Yankees" sign. (It is worth noting that at the conclusion of announcements, he tore off the shirt, ripped up the sign and stuffed the whole package into a Mets garbage can and walked off happily in Mets attire). The series was over, but it was clear that competitive softball at Hartwick was alive and well once again.

Series Summary:

Game 1- July 5, 2002, Hartwick College- Ethan 7, Josh 5; MVP's- Elyssa Plotkin, Ivan Rosenberg

Game 2- July 9, 2002, Wilber Park- Josh 7, Ethan 5; MVP's- Steve Button, Katie Wolff

Game 3- July 16, 2002, Wilber Park- Josh 8, Ethan 3; MVP's- Alf Hadinger, Max Schwartz, Hannah Button

Game 4- July 23, 2002, Hartwick College- Josh 11, Ethan 9; MVP's- Mike Laskey, Lucas Button

Game 5- August 1, 2002, Hartwick College- Josh 10, Ethan 6, Game MVP's- Anna Michael, Teddy Sizer

Who Is The Laziest

by ELyssa Plotkin

When asked "what do you most often take; the stairs or elevator?" this is what Hartwick's girls, boys, and faculty answered:

63% of girls take the elevator
68% of boys take the elevator
37% of girls take the stairs
32% of boys take the stairs

I'd have to say the girls and boys are pretty much the same- lazy! But that's OK because some people asked said that they are usually carrying around a big instrument. Oh yeah- and Peter Moore said that he usually doesn't take the stairs or elevator, he flies.

Out of all the counselors, CIT's and faculty.... only 27% of girls take the elevator
64% of boys take the elevator
73% of girls take the stairs
36% of boys take the stairs

We can obviously see who are the lazy ones here

I was surprised to see that out of 5 stage crew members, only 1 one of them would take the stairs.- And i thought they were strong and hard working- not lazy.

I hope you enjoyed the article, as well as your stay at Hartwick. Hope to see you all next year.

It's time to unmail the letters

I, Bonnie Alger, upon my departure, bequeath the following to...the entire counseling staff: townhouse nights, meetings, birthdays, crazy situations, griping, good times, and incredible group unity-we knew how to "lay the smack down" and "make it happen"; Jon B: German pronunciation, me in a good mood, a frown turned upside down, a fond farewell; Catherine: acceptance to Yale; Christine: mad flute skills; Kyle: a smile; Adam: future compositions, our encounters with a certain faculty member; Nadine: fun times singing 2nd alto, best of luck, I want to be you!; Carolina: a counselor position next summer, thanks for all of your help; Joseph: a huge laugh, a break from piano accompanying; Rick: music lessons; Gail: admiration of your violin skills, great conversations, tickling; Jeff: 2 a.m., "Mahler, baby, Mahler!", thanks for being so supportive, and for treating Emma so well; Fred: you can always brighten my day, "doomalooma"; Lee: you're ripped, our respect for Dr. Bob, good luck freshman year!; Cylon: "hangin'", rec time, Emma's eyes; Mandy G: gossip, our trip to Denny's, chach, fantasy crushes; Naji: a lesson in having fun; Dae: time away from the kiddies, money to pay your rent; Kinsman: TUBA!; Ali: stress relief; John M: what does that mean?; Bubbles: Newman House, NM, Pie in the Sky, shopping, a fresh start, SWAT; Kathy: MIB2, missing the big meeting; Mandy P: deep conversations; Sarah: a stable boyfriend; Cassie: 5 a.m., kidnapping Gordy; Allison: typing this up!; Josh: victory in the softball series; Claire: eclair, your wallet, Dave, the WalMart adventure, spying, our crazy kids; Keighty: your constant berating of me; Susannah: cursing, my imitation of you, the rumor mill, Ethan: ice cream chord, a baby, sleep, major 7th chords, religious Latin choral music, the "scandal", your own Internet connection, eye contact, a woman, a big thank you for helping me when the going got tough-I always knew I could depend on you; Johnny: yeaaahhh-how you doin'?, wonderful hugs, 1 week wasn't enough time...I only wish I had realized sooner how special you are, I love watching you play trumpet, and I love talking to you even more, to quote Dr. Seuss "A person's a person, no matter how small", keep in touch, "You know that place between sleep and awake when you're still dreaming? That's when I will think of you"; Emma: same schedule, phone calls at all hours, calling him Jon, responding to each other's names, stage crew groupies, watching Festival Band, quoting "Swingers" and many other things/people, hugs, venting sessions, always being together, my other half, conversations about everything, you are my backbone-thanks for everything; to all: We're here because of the music, but we all know that's only one part of the complete experience. It's the people that make it great. So, to all of those people, and you know who you are, thank you. "It's only music camp", but those closest to you will leave footprints on your heart. Be well, and be loved.
Take care.

The will of Leah Bakst

To Rachel I leave an inflatable golf cart, a steady temperature, a good free period, different accents, a retractable tongue, a non-moving fan, the lower bunk, NO sectionals, a better cell phone, breakfast in the commons, a visor and side ponytail, a portable toilet, a clean room, a shut door, my jewish star, another session, goppy lip gloss, my eyebrow brush, and "yummy". I love you so much and I could not have asked for a better roommate! We have to keep in touch! Elise, I leave you duct tape (for your mouth), a "special" shirt to keep you warm, another pair of those flip-flops, a spare bocal, lemon water, bullfrog, a computer screen I can read, an inflatable golf cart, stuff to throw out the window, aggressiveness, red paint and other items, and the JMRDLC! I love you so much and we have to keep in touch! You're awesome! To Delia I leave "get a room", a bigger fridge, more gossip (to share), a computer screen I can read, time for our talks, a working oboe and spare finlandia music. You are one of my favorite people ever. You are so sweet and I love you! Elinora, I leave you Dan Mumm, and Josh Hartnett. Lael, I leave you an opportunity to fall off the chairs in ensembles, a real chance to play the E-flat, another session, and another chance to perform Vaclav Nehlybel (just kidding!) I'm so glad I met you, you are an awesome person! To Amy I leave chocolate covered gummi bears, less boy stress, a mall to SHOP in, my skirt, spare footloose music, hotness, and "on the third floor". I am so glad I got to know you better this year! I love you so much and we have to keep in touch! To Addison I leave "macdaddison", a watch you can read, more pears, closets that aren't scary, a non-stupid stupid hour, a computer screen I won't get attacked wile reading, and a chance to show me the words of your song. I'm really glad I met you and I really miss you! Hopefully we'll actually have one of those 'reunions'. Emily- I leave you cell phone calls in the middle of the night, banging on the walls, "Oh wait, that's the answering machine!?!" headstands in the hallway, leaping down the hallway ("look I'm Emily!"), a town without a baseball hall of fame, and the fact that you're a pseudo JMRDLC. I love you so much and we have to keep in touch! To Tom I leave an unhurt bari, heavy breathing, Dave Lalama and "Caucasian", a solo that's not "luck", a better case, "my momma done told me…", better music for 3rd session, revenge for leaving early and the minor concussion you got. Peter, I leave you ::pokepoke::,

It's time to unstuff the envelopes

goon, stolen silverware, a hug…from Margaret, a tray, better shoes, more duct tape, being short for a day and the fact that you're a youngin. Isaac, I leave you a tray, m broken C key, getting my pencil on the stand, Dave Lalama and his comments, a rock star jump, being short (yeah jews), better music, revenge for leaving early and hitting your head on the ceiling of the van. Becky- messages for Jake, Marlo brushing your hair, crying/giving birth, a cure for lonleyness, and a chance to be here for last session. I love you becky! I miss you so much! Margaret- blue shirt (BS haha) boy #2, coffee…"wow…I should just stop talking now", 2 questions…1. How old are you? 2. umm…nevermind! Haha. You're so cool and I'm really glad I got to know you! To anyone I forgot I'm really sorry, it's really late, but I love you all and everybody has to keep in touch! (LRBswim@aol.com)

The last will & testament of SARAH BRANDT
I, Sarah Brandt, regret leaving, but don't regret all the memories! To roommate, Lindsay, I leave the fruit bars I ate, a cd player that works, a door that can't lock you out, my Basil Rathbone pictures, and someone to tuck you in at night. To Allison, I leave some bee repellant, an assortment of Skittles and Twizzlers, and a copy of The Lord of the Rings movie. To Megan, a version of "American Pie,' To Katie, that great happy face and cool dance moves. To the Music Theater cast and crew, those crazy red costumes and the silly walks. To Ethan Nash, my black "GO FOR IT! Life is not a dress rehearsal" t-shirt. And did you guys think I forgot you? To my Musketeers, Scott and Ezra (Mike), I leave three seats in a concert hall and our own corner of patio time. Especially to Scott, I leave some hugs (are you still in the lead?), the guest announcements, your "bass" singing, and of course, your mom. Cousins forever! To Mike, I leave a hill, a hug, all the little arm gestures and the singing, a dancing nymph, and an amazing softball game in which I scored a "run" and not a "point." I also leave the Yankees and Babe Ruth, a "no" pronounced correctly, and nightmare, a copy of Empire Falls, several ewwws and the troll. Have fun, make soothing ocean noises, and I won't forget what an incredible friend I've found. To EVERYONE: thanks for a laughable, loveable, unforgettable summer! (and it's always yesterday).

The last will & testament of CALEY BOWEN
Great times in room 313! Amity- Mesh!!! Homely!!! BBF 4eva. You are so much like a sis to me.~
Ashiling- Patriot, Trading Spaces TV people. It was fun having you as rommies.
Ali- Chain in slade-chicken… GOOD TIME DURING BREAK.

Megan Buerger
First of all, I'd just like to say that I've made so many friends and memories this past summer that I'll never forget. You all made this season remarkable, and through the years I hope you all remember summers here like I know I will. By coming to Hartwick, I've met people that will stay with me-emotionally if not physically- for the rest of my life. Miranda Delahoy's Will:
well, it's been another year of good times for me here at Hartwick. I'll never forget good memories from this year: Katie acting like a tagged chicken, playing frisbee on the hill, alex always telling me how unloveable I am, the mailman-Oh I get it!, The guy at the Chinese place and spelling K-A-T-I-E, breakfast with Annie and Katie, dick and chicken stories, Senior after hours time, NOT eating ice cream, The wall and my HOT donation, Leah's pickup line in beginning theory, getting called " cutoff" by Paul, the pizza dance, playing with Gordy in theory, rolling down the hill with Annie, A Bugs Life(bit it's so beautiful-bzzzzzz), the bird that talks and screams, the painters that don't work. Alex learning to braid hair, Liz spilling bubbles in her hair, discovery channel stories, "Lea" an all her men, Katiel losing her key and dumping her contacts in the water fountain in the same day, and all the good stuff yet to come. Keep in touch! XOXO

The will of Rebecca Dragonetti
To my first roommate Kara McCabe I leave a phone card at the end of my bed for you to find, granola, Chinese food, and my wardrobe. I love you so much and you made my first session awesome! You were always there for me as a friend and someone I could go to for advice. Neeta, my second roommate, I leave you a kazoo, a tape of zinga zinga zoo, a sponge bob on a stick, adidas sandles, Grandpa (so he can come to your party) and a cake. You're so awesome! Even though we already knew each other we got so close over the 2 weeks. I feel like I can tell you anything and I can't wait for our friendship to keep growing through upcoming years! To my 3rd session roommates Liz Lee I leave ice pops (33 per person, 8.33333 per day. Yes, Nikki and I did the math), all the beauty products I used of yours, Bach cello suite #1, The Chills, a banana, and a huge hug cuz I love you! Nikki- a better cello because the one you had made me want to cry, a roll of NY sushi, an olive (cuz you are one), a salad, a sandwich without a bread, an old couple fight, and hair dye cuz we're cool! Yea Jersey! You guys are so sweet and you always tried to make me feel better when I was sad. I had so much fun with you and we laughed so hard! To all the 1st floor girls 1st session- Keri Peters, Kara McCabe, KT Wolf, Becca F, Michelle, Kristen, Lisa and everyone else (I can't think cuz it's 12:00 at night and I have to hand this in tomorrow) I love you so much! We were like a family and I'll never forget you! KT Homes or KT Hot, I can't spell your name! You're the sweetest and I love you too! I've stopped leaving things because I'm lazy! Jessica, Sarah and Katelyne I really bonded with you guys one night (which was tonight) but I don't know what to say yet! You guys are cool and we will have memories! Miranda oooheheooo painters! Alex- you're so sweet! Thanks for letting me use your bass! YOU'RE THE COOLEST! To my first quintet I leave Dvorak #2! Sarah- YOU'RE SO SWEET! I love you so much! I leave you a walk to lunch with a discussion about our issues. I love you! CASSIE! I don't even know where to start with you! When I first met you in Mr. Mumm's quartet you scared me! But even then you were always willing to help me at any time I needed it! You've not only been one of my best friends this summer but you've been like a sister. I love you so much! KEEP IN TOUCH OR ELSE! Always play with Pathose. To Justin... I really don't know what to leave you, but you've made me laugh so hard! To the second session quintet- we were awesome! Charlie- even though things were shaky in the beginning I'm glad we got to become friends by the end Ian we had some good practice room discussions! I leave you some sushi. To Steve I leave the necklace of yours that I broke 8 times. "STEVE STOP TAPPING!" "but I can't help it!" To Jeremy I leave my glasses because you always took them. To Paul I leave my first solo album of me playing bass when I'm famous (or not). You've been such a good friend and you're so much fun! You better stay in touch! EMILY you're the coolest! And I'm not kidding I've had so much fun with you! Keep in touch! It's like 101 dalmations! To all my cello people YEA CELLO! I know I probably missed some really important people, but I love you guys so much and you made my stay worthwhile! Email me! xobeckyox@hotmail.com oh yeah: thanx to my counselors- Alie, Mandy! Yea Patch!

I Catherine Hughes leave the following upon by departure from this Summer Music Festival and Institute. Kim- strange noises, more decorations for our room, a sturdy bed and someone to remind you to always take your horn with you. Sarah C.- General Tso's chicken, long late night chats about singing and lots of magasines with celebrities to make fun of, good luck at Sarah Laurence!!! Cassie- less accident-prone and scatterbrained campers in the future and pyramids. Ciarrai- Tim, Bippery, and lots of cheese!!! Shanon- jokes about standpartners, a conversation with Dan Mumm. Stef, Kristan and Rachel- jokes about Riverside, a never-ending list of movies to see, and lots of time to see them, my ever-expanding list of books to read, the Survivor game (what were those survival items for anyway?) Olivia- longer legs so your endpin stops stabbing you, a hard case, a bed that isn't six feet off the floor. Ali- long green fingernails, and the half of the pecan pie that I ate. Carol- Lots and lots of cool piano pieces for you to play. Joanna- good health and a cure for sinus infections. Sam- a trombone, an alarm clock, an air conditioner and lots of Adams in your future and good luck at Case-Western. Kyle- a copy of Shrek, the pictures I took that I could use to blackmail you and a flock of cows. Bonnie- stories about Stamford, sleep, a chocolate donut, a flock of cows to keep in cow countrya voice that doesn't get tired, good luck at Lawrence. Emma- time to practice the flute, makeup to wear in every concert (you have to start sometime), colorful clothing for Ethan's octet, the word for bathroom in Denmarkian good luck at Peabody!!! Cindy- your own bass and E-flat clarinet, and an ever-growing collection of clarinets, emails from your boyfriend, the force. Christine- the Sistine Chapel, celebrity jeopardy, sleepovers in your room, a visit to Juliard, a pillow, so that if you ever find yourself falling in a fit of laughter, you won't hit your head, "clapping hands with childlike joy" The Shrews- my silent laugh, DED Fred, the queen and the princess, floor dinners, keep in touch!!!

I, Ali Loomis, "the counselor that does everything" have many wonderful memories to leave to all my favorite people. To all of my campers – 2nd floor Charles ROCKS!! We love Dan Mumm! I'm glad you were all on my floor. May you have many more sundaes to bond over. To the absolutely top-notch counseling staff, e made it through the summer and we never had to make that call. JS-sorry for all the short jokes-you know I do it out of love. SC-it's always a blast with you guys. Sal's forever baby! CT-I'm sorry you couldn't stay here with us. KM-Glad you joined us! DK-happy to be SAC with you. Thanks for the hugs. RD-I trust you to keep my deepest darkest secret. DM-hope you enjoyed the birthday message. SS-I'm so glad you made an encore appearance at the festival even if it was a few years later. EJ & BA- I knew they would do the right thing and ask you back. Be good to the boys. SR-wow, there's no way I could repay you for everything you've done for me this summer. Thank you for your pearls of wisdom and being the shoulder I needed. Now don't forget to listen to your own advice once in a while. May you always have Milano cookies at your fingertips when you really need them. Love ya! JD-peanut butter, socks and sandals, biting your finger, Sal's, I'm the assistant, talks and visits, mistakes, apologies, new beginnings. I love you.

The last will & testament of MEREDITH GANSNER a.k.a. Smurfette
First things first; I don't leave anyone my possessions. They are all mine, MINE! (just to clarify, MINE!). However, I do leave everyone with memories of my sparkling charm and "shortness." Anyway, in attempt to be more serious, below are random thoughts concerning my time spent here this summer. They go in no specific order aside from when these thoughts came into mind. Here we go… AAAHHH! POOIE! Christa: My silver hair dryer and the Jaws theme!/ We heart Heimlich!/ No more waiting for the pizza guy 'till 2. Dan#2 (tuba): "Oh, that's right, you're from NJ!"/ " I don't read anything…" and " I spend quality time on the floor." James: Region I!(that's a roman #1) See you there! Dan #1(who's now in Canada): "L… is for the way you look at me…"/ I'm sorry..hehehe. / I miss storytime. Jackie: Who'd ever thing you could get so lost in a concert? Kyle: Muppet Treasure Island!/ Cabin Fever..AAHhhhh… SING-A-LONGS!/ You'll be the nest John Williams, I know it. J.W. ROCKS!/ One would think pressing random button is a bad thing, but boy it's fun! Especially when things turn off and don't come back on. Mary: Chinese menu food chant./ I still have a shirt covered in hair dye! Alex: Thank you so much for getting me out of that baker. I might still be there id it wasn't for you. Jack: You couldn't really escape Wendell the Wizard. Allison Sulock: LOTR rocks! Thanks for sharing my obsession! James & Mary: I fell like a smurf.. so it's different. Kyle & Mary: Thanks for all the trips to the Health Center. I just get so into those books. The Breakfast Club: Hide and Go Seek in Anderson!/ "Hey look, the tables are all round!" All in Fest. Orchestra Berlioz 2nd session: Sorry about my "Berlioz Concerto for 4th horn." All in Fest. Orchestra 1st session: MAESTRO!! Well, for all I didn't directly mention, it's not that I don't love you, it's just that my memory is "short." Also, I had very "little" time to do this in and it's not a very "tiny" will and won't take a "small" amount of time to type. Thanks to everyone for always being there. I'll miss you all and that's something I can't put a "vertically challenged" reference into, oh well. 'Till next year…see you shortly.. HA..HA..HA

The last will and testament of ERICA GREEN
Lindsay LaRuso: You're not supposed to hit us, you're supposed to hit on us. You are awesome! Peter: I did steal your beret. Jack: Hey Jack in the box. Elinora: Dan Mumm… sorry about the loud music. Harry: Hey Hairy, how's your trumpet (lol)? Thanx for teaching me how to play "the game." Marlo: Booger tissues on our posters, ants in our room, chats at night, 2nd floor Van Es guys- Whoever had "the flashlight," you need to work on your moors code. Michelle: I didn't forget you, although I'm trying… we're running low on cereal (lol)… your hiding in my closet was so funny. Ramin: Was the turkey really better than me? You're a good kisser, you were a great boyfriend, and I'll never forget all the nights we spent on the stairs at patio time. You smell really good, and it won't kill you to be on time once in a while. Teddy: You're a great dancer (lol), those polar bear/ice berg pjs are hot. Keep up on your 6 packs; you have gorgeous eyes. Aaron: sorry about the suspender snapping. Supperman is cool… not. Ben: You're so cool, although your four grilled cheese sandwiches weren't. You'd look ten times hotter without the visor. Trudi: Learn how to make your bed. Marie: I wanted to make you feel cool, so hey. Brian Finlayson: You're really hot, and I love your hair.

The last will and testament of Mandy Grahn:
First off, I want to thank all of you who made my first summer here such a great one, I'm sure you all know who you are. Now on to the fun stuff!! Kathy: Floor buddies, Chinese food, patio time bonding, nights off, rant sessions, jazz concerts, talking about your visit to Indy. You're amazing, thanks for everything! Cassie: John Mayer, DMB, all the Trading Spaces videos you could ever want (esp. TY), "Did that just happen?", random jokes and lost of laughing. I wouldn't have made it without you! Jen: Harry Potter, bathroom duty, Moaning Myrtle Mary: endless Chinese food!! Bonnie: Thanks for welcoming me to the floor, lots of gossip, trips to Denny's Emma: Yeah, so the on/off switch that controls what comes out of my mouth? That definitely doesn't work. Josh: Cosmo, singalongs Alison: Copying fun time, my floating head Sarah: Copying fun time…oh wait, you were the smart one that got out while she could! Keighty: Chach Carolina and Nadine: you're both wonderful, and you always brighten my day! Fred: Thanks for all the friendship and support Patch and Joe: I'll never tell. The secret is still safe! To all my oboe players throughout the summer: I love you all, you're amazing! I will you reed shavings, oboe cookies, and Star Wars plates with Hayden Christensen To all my 3rd floor girls: Dan Mumm and/or Josh Tariff. Take your pick, it's ladies choice. Susannah: You're amazing. Thanks for being so supportive through…everything. And I do mean everything.

The last will and testament of CAROLINA KIM:
Coming from Miami Beach, Fl to Oneonta, NY was a pretty drastic change. But it was worthy 'cause I got to meet & work with a whole bunch of wonderful counselors, interns, festival officers, FAs and CITs (remember PineLake?!). I truly feel blessed to have known all of you fine people. Thanks for the great time and memories. All the CITs: It was fun having to do the "dirty job," huh? Sal Salvaggio: It was a pleasure to work with such a great guitarist and a cool guy. Thank you for sharing your knowledge and love for the guitar. You've been a bigger help than you can ever imagine, and I'll never forget it. Brian Finlayson & Ramin Fallah (the forever & only HCSMF&I Classical Guitar Trio): Thanks for working so hard. I love the idea I got to play with two of the finest and cutest guys in the festival (not in my eyes, though… =0) j/k). You both have come such a long way in a very short time, which is very impressive! I truly believe that w/ a little more patience & effort, you'll achieve more than you can ever expect. Just keep it up! Mary & Kyle: I love you guys from the bottom of my heart. Thanks for the great time together. I wanna leave you my forever friendship (that should be enough…hehe-jk) Sunny: Thanks for the kimchi and cup ramen; couldn't have gone through 6 weeks without them… =0) Gomahuoh! Cylon, Jo & Nay: I'll forever treasure the talks and laughs we had… specially at the dinner table… love yall! Nadine: Gurl, you think I forgot you?!? Man, we've truly become best friends here.. I don't blame you 'cause I know I'm cool as hell (hahaha, I've got jokes). I know our friendship will definitely last & I look forward to keeping in touch w/ you. Thanks for the fun times & for always being there whenever I needed. Love ya! Last but not least, THANK YOU Ms. Kim, Miss. Lawlor, Mrs. Mumm and Dan Spencer for all the help and support I needed to come and remain here. I want you to know that I never took it for granted. =0)Everyone else I couldn't mention… -you know how Hi-note is.. =0)- Sorry & thanks for making my stay here so much more welcoming. God bless you all.

The last will and testament of LINDSAY LaRUSSO
Jackie: A real ducky… three years with me! A boy in Georgia… a seven page letter… our "talks" about your boy issues… a conducting teacher… my friendship forever… all the long distance phone calls in the world between CT and GA…Marlo and Erica: Our late night "chats" about our many issues…solutios for all your problems… a singing voice for Festival Choir… my friendship always…Jack: A rehearsal I arrive on time to… a new band conductor…Joe: A wrist guard for the movie theatres… my paranoia at patio time… amother girl to lie on your shoulder constantly… best wishes in Mexico… my friendship always... Colin: a good back scratcher… my best wishes for good relationships… an always willing ear to listen to all your problems… a new + better chorale! Sara: Another, more clean, less high maintenance daughter (I mean roommate)… a BOYFRIEND… the romance you've always wanted and refuse anything but… all my "little monster" tactics…Jackie (again): Colors! AOL that works always… a new horn case… my "babies" (the septuplets)… the ability and right to do something not nice to the Festival Band conductor for winning our "contest"… and seat about Dave… "my" Dave… all my Dave stories… my genius advice… buh-byes!… a best friend who will always be there for you, no matter what… a piece of my heart… Harry: …,,a new band conductor… Festival Dance class… my open ears to listen to that stupid annoying jazz… my paranoia at patio time… all my noises and funny faces…Institute Brass Quintet: A group as good as us! … pictures… an a cappella quintet EVERYONE: My screen name is zee153@aol.com WRITE and IM me! My love to you all!

The last testament and will of KARA McCABE
Liz: My pj pants, the chills, my bed, "you can't see me!", " on your mom" my preppyness, my bumble & bumble, shower conuos, knees!(my bad ones), my green eyes, Friday night jewness, my pinwheel. Lastly, "Do not cry because it ended. Smile because it began."

Annie Nussear
Hey guys! Only five days, but I still have a lot to say: it seems to have all been about bugs - Katie's obsession with bugs, getting attacked by bugs, watching A Bug's Life, the black widow, Miranda killing the bugs... The wall- Katie and me in love with all the cuties on it plus the (half) naked boy Miranda donated. And our room in general, it is so cool right Katie? Late night dance parties and actually having to wake up in the morning while Katie hides and throws stuff on the floor. Then not eating breakfast with Miranda. I will never hold my floor. Then not eating breakfast with Miranda. I will never hold my guitar correctly, but Katie has huge forceps or biceps- which on is it? The Frisbee stuff on the hill-hitting the building and Alex trying to teach us tricks- "I can throw it behind my back" Back rubs- mine are better than Aaron's. All the singing- Katie says "I wanna wun thwough the hawls of my high schowl, I wanna wcweam at the top of my lungs, I just found out there's no such thing as a weal world..." Then figuring out all the words to savage Harden and my infatuations with the sunrise song. The amazing skills of making paper cranes, braiding hair, and the card tricks. Playing name games. Katie can hold Asron's tuba without falling over! Jess's cool shoes even though they aren't hers. Me and Kim wearing the same dress. Ordering Chinese food- "It's spelled K-A-T-I-E!" "yes..yes...yes the combo! "Rolling down the hill with Miranda, and being dizzy afterwards. Speking in French - Je t'emmene chez moi!! Je suis tombe! Renaming people-Scott, even though he was first Debon". Seeing "people" all the time. Dying my hair! We'll always be bodacious babes! Contacts in the water fountain!! Gross!

Last Will and Testament of Mary Olenen:
First off, nobody's getting my stereo, and my huge yellow plushie snake. Stop it! Don't even think about it....aww...no touchie my personal belongings. However, the following wonderful people can have this stuff listed here: Meredith: I'm so glad I got to know you better this year, your an awesome friend.
Mr. Soto leaps gracefully from tree to tree....that's how he got into America. Chinese food chants, unorthodox Buddhism. To you and James, I leave you both joint custody of a flaming toaster with a complementary flaming English muffin bit. Keep it healthy, and it may outlive the peanut butter cookie in a bowl of ketchup. James: I don't even know where to begin. Thank god we both decided to come back this year. I don't care what other people think of you, and you shouldn't either. It's their loss for not seeing you for the great person you are. To you I leave the can of WD40, more theory charts for beginning theory, and as mentioned above, custody of a flaming toaster. Lastly, I leave you a permanent spot in my heart, a hug whenever you need it, and my love, always. Kyle: Hey, if it wasn't for you I wouldn't have come back. I'm so happy I got to do my CIT-ing with you, it was cool. To you I leave all the misunderstood statements, breakfast club memberships (TWO? Yes. Two. One of next year. :)) Christa: I can't really remember any of our stupid inside jokes from first session, but just always remember me carrying senor cow in my pocket in choir. He totally rocked my world. Also, the pizza order and the water snarfing. Mike got hit in the nose with a golf cart. Haha. Mandy and Kathy make Chinese food eating great. "It's been what...two days since we last ordered?!" I love all the other cool counselors too, you know who you are. Almost done. I'd just like to mention how cool the other CIT's were this year, especially....well...I can't name names. Just insert all of them into this spot. Nadine, Carolina, Adam, Brian, John, Kyle, Mike, (forgive me for mentioning the golf cart), best wishes for the future, and God bless you all. I know I left people off this thing that really should be in here, and to you guys, I'm sorry about that, but you know I love you nonetheless. "Go confidently in the direction of your dreams. Live the life you have imagined." -Henry David Thoreau

The last will and testament of PATCH PANZELLA
To everyone whoever went to Festival Choir: MORNING!! Katie Caliendo: You're awesome. You're cool, And you're supposed to e-mail me! Amy Feigenbaum: Thanks for figuring stuff out and helping me out with everything… you're cool. Biedermann: You're a ladies man. Nice tapping during festival Jazz. That's all there is to say. Counselors: Thanks for letting me chill with you guys and all.
Dudzick: Thanks for the new nickname. Ali Loomis: Will jam sometime, I'm sure. We still definitely have to challenge each other sometime. Thanks for tolerating me a little more this year.
Rhys: You're the coolest man. It sucked not having you around last session. Make sure you stay all summer next year. Mary Ann and Craig: You two are amazing! You're so supportive and helpful of everyone at the camp. Thanks for all the encouragement and friendliness. It helped so much. The Mitchell Family: You guys are really cool. I'm really glad that you guys came to this camp. Hope you have a good year and I look forward to seeing you again. Jazz faculty: Hey! I had a great time with everyone this year. It was a great experience and an honor getting to perform/tap with you guys. Hope to be able to do that again sometime. Bobby Phillips: How's CurlySue 1043? Mandy: Don't worry. I didn't tell anyone. The secret is safe. Becky Dragonetti: Make sure you keep in touch. You're a really great person. Hope to see you back here. Have a good year. I leave you a bunch of e-mails. Liz: We had fun in Vocal Jazz. You've got an awesome voice. I leave you a rubber band to snap me with during Vocal Jazz. John Miller: It's Miller time!!! Hey, thanks for teaching me Egyptian Rat Screw. 'Twas fun. Susannah Stayter: Hey, You're an awesome coordinator. I had a great time having you around. I really look forward to keeping in touch with you. Thanks for helping us out in the office so much. Everyone in 2nd Session Vocal Jazz: We had a great time. Good concert! EVERYONE: I had an awesome time this summer. I mad a lot of great new friends and look forward to keeping in touch with all of you. Have a great year and I hope you come back!!

Miranda Penington:
To Christiana, my very first ever roommate, I leave the monks, the junk food, an non broken refrigerator, my bangs, nut bread, and that one stupid skirt, and the museum. To Melissa, I leave any and all funny stories ever, as well as D.C., and many fork fans. To Rick, I leave the bat, and the god-forsaken cuckoo mask and the macaroni chair To Allison, my lil sis, I would leave Moulin Rouge, but that's just far too much to let go of. Instead, I leave her the color orange, and refrigerator space to make up for what my sprite's took up, and new door paper. To Colin, my buddy, I leave the infamous "Falling bombs," my soprano voice, and at least three of my best hugs, for bad days, along with "Roxanne" (from Moulin Rouge") and my punctuality. To Will, my one true love, I leave two years to grow up and be old enough for me in. He doesn't need anything else, cause he's perfect
Miranda Pennington.

Elyssa Plotkin
Mandy P.- I give you a million bassoonists so you don't have to be in every band and orchestra! Thank you for being such a wonderful counselor. Ali Loomis- I give you all of my free time because you were the busiest person i have ever seen. Amanda Z.- Arid Deoterant Brian- I'll be more than happy to give you the Eb clarinet! Ethan- I wish i could give you a win for the "Ethan and Josh" softball series.

Alyssa- "Hi Alyssa" "Hi Elyssa" My Sax. Quartet- i don't really have anything to give you, but this saying... "Who the hell has a C clarinet?!?" (I know, it's getting old. sorry) Nicole- I give you all my decks of cards and games of Skippo. Kyle- I give you all the band and orchestra solos because i know how much you want them. It was so fun working with you, even if it was 3 hours a day. I wish i could sit next to someone as talented as you in every band i'm in. Thanks. Everyone- as i said last year- i wish you all the best of luck and i hope to see you all again sometime somewhere in the musical world.

Susan Putnin's Will:
To Julia Workman I leave my Mirah CD cause it's the (bam) light you're after because (bam) light moves faster; a gerbil/camera battery; a tropical island; a pan creas in a tree; 99 multi-colored balloons; a sheep and a tree; a gallon of milk. To Rebecca Nicholson I leave my sayl phone so she can make random phone calls, and a corsage. To Leander, Kyle, and Nadine I leave hiking boots for trips to the health center. To Ben I leave my schedule- oh wait he has it already! To Tracy I leave my Rocky Homer book. To Timmah and the piano sight reading class/steady skills class I leave a piano to crush out the 3rd story window, a pack of frappuchinoes, and a refrigerator, giraffe, and hippopotamus- combine at will.

I, Amy Rosenfield, leave……
Leah: an extra 2 weeks with a certain duckbilled creature, a triple big enough for both our garbages, tons of hugs, and chocolate covered gummi bears.Elise: a black shirt to keep you warm, a bull frog, a puppy, a certain counselor, a new watch, and a lot power.Cassie: a boy wonder… or not?, countless talks, an owl, too much analyzing, plans….muah!, my blue dress, lots and lots of untaken hints.Rachel: sleepovers, ample room on my mattress, the top bunk in 333, a bigger closet, more time @ Hartwick, shorts that say 'WICK, the 3rd floor of Yager and perfect timing.Elinora: Dan Mumm, and topgun Mandy: way too much time spent in your room, chief, and John….Mayer David B.: What? Who said that? Meg: A Japanese cow named Kimosabi Matt: cow…girl, wild turkeys, fun run, the right notes, snow caps, inhalers and N64 Becca: Really confusing IMS and hairy legs…or not. Liz: one fabulous pink and white dress, a chipmunks, incredibly confusing mimed chamber choir convos. Brian: 500 water ballons, rolling down the hill. Becky: countless hours to "mack," too many made up songs, crazy crying, better friends when you're not roomies, all of the gel I borrowed. Joey: Boy wonder, skinks and water ballons, Tobey McGuire, Boring first classes…Emily: too much candy, midnight room hopping, short bouncy pony tails, trips back to Hartwick.

I Dana Saffron hereby leave the following items to :Ben (tall one): your 3 favorite people, bites, a big jar, the person with whom you wish to cuddle, even more marshmallows than last year (they only had lucky charms once!), a less hectic schedules so I can see you more often. Claude- a wonderful marriage!K.to me, a life without stupid stalkers and annoying little girls, !?dreamy!? eyes, plenty of Schumann music to sight-read, an older duet partner, teenage mutant Claude!, a year without having to pick up a tray, 2(1/2) kids, Guess who I love. Elinora (blonde chick) !V sexy violinist, 1st chair in orchestra (you soo deserve it), a mop, 2 sorrels!KDouble yes! Ben S. !V YES!, a roommate who sleeps, thanks for hanging out with me when I was !?sick!? and thanks for not ruining my life this year fo I luv you! Katie (Holmes)- a world without those stupid jerks who made us sad, just remember that guys are dumb and useless (even if they are hot!). Stay sweet and pretty! Claire- You were the best counselor ever! Thanks for being there when I was sad and putting up with me and Nikki (be glad it was just 2 weeks) I love you! (Tell Dave I say !?Hi!?). Tuba Dan !V A smaller part-time theory class (6 was just way too many!), thanks for listening when I needed someone to talk to. You!|re the coolest tubist ever! Liz- My NYC buddy! I leave you a new crutch since you broke one of them (good job!).Be careful with those high kicks and always remember to tie your shoes when you go on fun run! Love you! And lastly, the best roommate ever, Nikki !V granola, Claude merchandise (Claude-in-the-box, stretch Claude!K), our new pond, monkey and duck stories, a sexy Russia, (cause those are better), a room with a water fountain and a bathroom, !?wah-wah!?, The Hartwick)even though Andrea has it), an ugly roommate for the last 4 weeks, an Israeli, !Yeah bras choir!|, stupid geese, weird Hartwick dreams, a lifetime supply of mousse, soccer, and I know I'm forgetting like 400 things but I had to rush finishing this. I love you and you are the smartest person ever! And for everyone I will miss you guys sooo much, I can!|t wait till next year when I can actually stay all 6 weeks. I love you all and we'll hopefully see most of you next summer.

Kathleen Shumakerðs Last Will and Testament
Michelle, Megan, Jackie, Erik, and Thomas
I have to pay, Michelle does take showers, Window Tradition, Shady Dude, Stuffing pockets with bananas, I donðt live in a city, Hogie isnðt in Chamber, Conic Action
Erik, Amy, Liz, and Anna
Next time weðll order back-up rice in case of some people spilling.

The last will & testament of LISSY SORENSEN
I, Lissy Sorensen, hereby bequeath the following memories, experiences, and items to: Maread: I leave you the line of tape, the satisfaction of yelling at people for coming to Vocal Jazz late, and the opportunity to actually enjoy Upstate pizza. K.I.T. Caitlin: I leave you the answer of how to put two oboes in tune… And I will try to remember not to call you Katie! Liz T.: My Festival choir buddy. Kathy, Mandy, and Mary: I leave you my perpetually mess dorm. "Don't kick me out of the bathroom!" Jen Moros: You are so cool! I leave you my happiness-remember CONSTANT HAPPINESS! You're so awesome and don't let anyone tell you otherwise. Brigit: Guess who fell? BRIGIT! Well, this year was fun… I leave you the Perfect Imitation, an opportunity to sit on floor, twiddle thumbs and throw much at people, snap! "Evidence" of all our inside jokes. K.I.T.! Which brings me to that annoying question… Where did all the mint chocolate chip go?! Liz P.: my roommate! Well, this session was very different, but fun all the same. I leave you my mess, my AIR, MY sign! That was funny… I leave you the Guest Box, the dysfunctional apple, long talks at night (that always resulted in me falling asleep), "soda for lunch, breakfast, and dinner," and last but not least, I leave you my ability to always be optimistic- never let anything anybody says get to you because you are so cool and the best roommate anyone could have! EVERYONE: Thank you all for making my two week stay at Hartwick so unique and special. (singingsweetie@email.com)

LIZ SPECTOR's Last Will & Testament
Meg: sooo many things I don't even know where to start- you: "I don't have a clip behind my door" me: "that sucks, I do," "'ARRY POTTER is that you?!," our "perch, me: " they look like Mario& Luigi" you: " I wasn't here first session, I don't know them," "walking in the hall @ 2am, me pouring water all over you, spying on people from our perch& trying to be quiet but sitting on a balloon::POP:, "…that's gross," "that'd be pretty DAMN funny to watch!, assume melting position", " I hacky SUCK!", really random facial expressions, wayyy tooo much usage of the word f, you: "you'd be a pretty bad babysitter" me: "shut up!", me singing jewel in the middle of the night, "coioioin," sharing all our clothes, laughing hysterically at absolutely nothing for hours in the middle of the night, " can I borrow that?- no I was talking about the boy", cracked out British accents, you walking in on me doing yoga, "maybe it's a different John Mayer," we definitely need to coordinate our responses to my mom's questions- My mom: " Do you unlock your door?" me & you: "ya-nope!" Cassie's sight- reading face, look@ the sky!, Joey & the spider in his pants, singing to Arethra Franklin completely out of tune in front of the window @2am, failing miserably @ beginning guitar, "who the * looks at Einstein's forehead?!", sound affects, "we don't scream that in Spain!", "10 things MB should never say, you singing really loud in front of hot guys, indecisive vending machine man. Your beanie baby and the poem, "wo!f!", the banana, "come shower w/ me," dammit Meg, now I hafta barricade my closet!, "wait, what's that word, again?(as t.b.b. walks up),"ya'll know"- I'm wwwaaayy too white to ever sing that song-There's so many others but not enough room. This summer was amazing ILUBFF. Cassie: Chamber choir buddies 4ver! Beginning guitar was awesome even tough we never get around that jam session lol, the "soundbox," "their heads match! ILUBFF Sarah: Late night talks(starbursts!) eating all our food, "pizza, brownies, focus!", you falling up the stairs and Anderson + grouping the person in front of you. I'll miss you so much Sarah, ILUBFF- I'll def. Come visit you this year in NYC! 3rd floor Char. Girls- our floor was amazing, movie nights were awesome & you girls are all the best- I'll miss you all! Amy- "fun running" is awesome even if we suck, commons food making you hallucinate- "look at the wild turkey" ILU! Jen- random practice sessions, pep talks, breaking into the listening center- haha- you are the best, I love you and will miss you so much Allison- "CHOCOLATE SAUCE!" (even though you ruined the joke by telling him it's still pretty funny), tennis, you getting locked out of your room and becoming a roomie for a day, you're an awesome counselor and I'll really miss you! Miranda- I LOVE gaspel music (not gospel)! Haha that was hilarious Jack- It's been awesome, I'll miss you

Emily R- soo much- "I feel like 101 dalmations" "wow that's a lot of cellos!" Laughing so hard in the middle of the concert when the double bases were playing. Our duets are awesome & you are so coming to stay at my house during All State, saturated balls, sooo many blonde moments- I'll miss you so much ILU BFF Dave- we had some good times this summer, you better come back next year, too bad things didn't work out the way we thought they would be there's always next summer…Institute wind quintet 2nd session- "isn't that a cow?" (in reference to an "Effer" not a "heffer" lol), "we'd go so fast we'd go 'poof'" Katie: "I'm like Moses!" Kristen, you're an awesome coach- thanks so much! Elise- our Rochester accents, test tube babies, etc. Joey- your dance w/ the spider in your pants, me "look at the sky!" Delia- our obsessions with each other's hair (yours is better!) "sun running" (unsuccessfully- haha) you're the best! All Oboe players- reed parties, curly cane shavings, etc. you guys are all awesome!
Anna M- you are such an amazing person and teacher, thank you so much for everythingI really hope I'll have a chance to work with you again next summer. I'll miss you!

Allison Sulock =)
Ahhh, the famous (or infamous) last will and testament… First of all, I must inform you all, that I almost didn't take this job, and now I'm very glad I did. All of you have made an impression on me in one way or another, and I thank you all so much for being part of my summer, and making it a great one. Ok- now onto the funny stuff: Ethan- The King and the sound of Cinderella on a State Fair Carousel in South Oklahoma; Susannah- I will not sing the song that goes along with your name; Bonnie- same as Susannah's; Ciarrai- thanks for the dress!; Fred- bunches of hugs to you always; Jenny (haha- sorry)- haha bruised twins- yay Orpheus theatre soon; Emma- swing dancin'; Mandy (G)- No more copies (AH!); Mandy (P)- a few more sun-runners; Lee- a really loud clock to wake you up so you won't have to listen to me every morning; Josh- a watch so you'll stop asking me what time it is, and timpani that tune themselves; John (M)- "do do do do do…" thanks for getting that song stuck in my head forever (note sarcasm here); Cylon- for campers on your floor to stop saying "ya mon"; John (S)- I'd give ya some height, but I don't have much to spare; Naji- oooh- so you're the grandson?; Kathy- ear plugs for next time I play alto sax with the one weekers; Dae- 1,2,3…. Where's (insert camper's name here)- no more!; Keighty- some non-pink clothes; Ali- less things to do; Cassie- shorts that actually fit other people on the fun run; Jeff- an extra marimba so one can stay in slade; Stage crew- and easier way to move that stupid harpsichord; Sarah- you can have all the shampoo left in our floor's bathroom; Nadine- sing it girl!; Gordy- I just want to be loved too; a certain portion of the 3rd floor girls- I know you all think it'd be cute, but sorry, it's just not gonna happen; Miranda- lil sis, have ewan, though he's not mine to give; Rick- Napalm wings! Water! Ah!; Meredith- lotr on my computer (and all over your wall); Liz and Meg- chocolate sauce! Thanks for dressing me up a lot; All my "on your floor" singers- "ba ba da ba…"; Jeremy- more energy so you don't wuss out on our Frisbee game; Superman- riiiight; Julia- yay for making it all 6 weeks without the rest of the diva crew; Ben- why do you feel the need to suck up to me?; Rhys- oooh yeah- ooow!; Linds- shoes that magically appear on your feet before you leave the building; My one weekers 3rd week- cheesey hellos and random comments; My one weekers 5th week- ostrich! And the insipid race; mike b- how you doin'?; leander- birthday present! Haha; em & bri- "no, we can't- it will never work out"; the divas- stay cool!; everyone on 3rd floor charlotte- yeah best floor ever! Love you guys!; To everyone- my house here in Oneonta is open if you have the overwhelming urge to try the commons food again- haha- or just visit- I'll cook you some real food! (send an email: SulockA@Hartwick.edu) Thank all of you so much for being here, and being who you are! Hopefully I'll run into you all again in the future! "All you have to decide is what to do with the time that is given to you"
Sincerely,
Allison Faith Sulock =)

Josh Tariff
Well, this is it…
This could very likely be my final will that I am writing for the hi-note. Unfortunately I cannot be back next year, and who knows what lies ahead in my future (who knows, I might pull and Ethan and come back in 10 years), but I just want everyone to know how much this music festival has meant to me over the last 4 years. This place has given me great music opportunities, and great friendships that last a lifetime. My summer will never be the same without seeing the 10 year old musicians running around, or all the funny announcements that are made after festival choir, or pizza night. All of these things will have a place in my heart for the rest of my life and I hope that this wonderful festival has left its mark in your heart as well.

And now for my will.
Granted some things will be serious but believe me, I won't be all serious in this will. After all, its supposed to be inside jokes right? Fred – I leave you quarters, a lower pitched voice, and a friendship that will last a lifetime. Ethan- I've said it before and I'll say it again. You are the most talented musician I have ever met in my life. It was truly an honor and privilege to work under someone as kind and talented as you. The only thing I can think that I can give you is a softball victory or two. ☺ Ciarrai – I'll give you Fred I guess ☺ I need a wedding invitation!!! Lol! Cylon – My steelband CD, and the hat you were supposed to get me in Jamaica. Sarah – Me… j/k Its been a lot of fun going up the ranks of this festival with you. From camper, to CIT, to counselor, to senior counselor (wait, I am not there yet), you are a very kind person and I know that you will make something of yourself. Jon Miller – Tips on how to win an Egyptian Ratscrew, and a stopwatch to time how fast you can say my name. Dudzick- You are one of the two people that has worked here that I have known for all 4 of my years. Thank you for putting up with me in the percussion section. I know I can be a hassle. I'm gonna leave you lessons on how to tune timpanis j/k j/k. Naji – The title of most wanted counselor. Scavone – I can spare you 3 or 4 inches of height if you want. Lee – You can split the height with Scavone and I also leave you a bandage to wrap your ankle in after I put the clover leaf on you, and a one way bus ticket to NYC to see Less than Jake. Dae – That waitress's phone number Tuba Dan – Thank you for making my job on the floor so simple. "Wait a minute, if I'm here, and you, you and you are here, who's on the floor?" Ali – I'll leave you our wonderful theory class. ☺ Allison – A watch so when I ask you what time it is, you will actually know. And if you want I will give you full custody of Gordy. Susannah – I'll leave you… Except on Thursdays ;)
Claire – A backrub Katie – The Fish at Neptune Bonnie – Sup baby Emma – same as Bonnie's
Leander – It is incredible how much you have matured as a musician and a person in one year (granted you still need some more work, but you are doing great). Keep up the good work, I know you will make something of yourself. Best of luck in the future The Longmeadow Crew – Represent yo, we own this place. Little Liz – You are my best friend. Patch- A set of golf clubs to throw into you your cart to make it look its used for something. Megan and Liz – My phone number is 330-……..Olivia- I'll seeya in Longmeadow. Mandy Grahn – A cosmo article for me to read to you. Kathy – If possible, an even bigger smile. Mike Belhumer – Ummmmmm… Stuff ☺ Eric – You have taught me a lot over the last 3 years in percussion. Thank you for your help, and let me meet Lisa so I can ask her why? Lindsay – A watch so you will make it to binder on time Joe – A volume control for your laugh, j/k Dan Mumm – How can I give you anything? You are Mr. Unattainable!!! Rick - What do you do here again? Lol Roy – Muscles Gordy – Bongo lessons Again, thank each and every one of you for making my time here so much fun. Its been an incredible ride and I hope one day I can come back here and get back on the HCSMF&I roller coaster. Until then, God bless each and every one of you. Sincerely, Joshua S. Tariff

The last testament and will of ALYSSA VAN THOEN
Clare: I leave you my craisins, tow dozen "borrowed" q-tips, all of my little thingies that pop when you throw them on the floor, and the complete publishing rights for "Meredith's Song."
Christina: I leave you all of my The Calling merchandise, even though it doesn't amount to much. Maybe we'll meet up in the afterlife and go see them together. Felicia: If I had a trumpet, I would give it to you so you could practice and work on those muscles. But I don't have one, so you don't get anything. Sorry… I love you anyways. Katie E.: Why would I leave anything to you? You're a Methodist. Paul: I leave you my shoes. Alex: I leave you ice cream that doesn't melt and isn't cold. Jeremy: I leave you my cello so you can learn how to play Bag's Grove and Real World on it. Everyone else: You don't get stuff, but I still love you. Keep in Touch.

The will of Nicole Vega
I, Nicole Vega, have had an amazing time over the past week. Between Harry Potter, my fridge and "the club," it has been so much fun. Nicole: We end up hanging out all the time. If you are looking for one of us, chances are 90%of the time, the other one of us is there. Nicole loves Harry Potter… (which Nicole…..). "Should we have ice cream now or later?" BOTH!. The Pudding and cards Club-a very exclusive club currently consisting of 3 members, you, me, and Harry Potter. Floor bonding- can we bond with the fridge instead?" All my food consisted of something to do with cookies, ie: cookie crisp, homemade cookies, chocolate chip poptarts etc. My mountain dew code rod. Lots of water. "Food is good except when you're fat" "Gum is good except when you don't have real teeth or you are not human." COWS, the tipsy cow picture. My fluffy cow you want to steal. How to dance 101, "If you don't dance, I'm not giving you any

It's time to remove the D.S. and go straight to the Coda pudding." Figuring out how to makeorigami stars- now I have a large collection of them. I bought markers to draw on my mirrors, just like Lael did in your room. AUSTIN POWERS! We hate Britney Spears- Hurray! She was a fem-bott and she blew up, yay- that made the movie better. I love you Nicole. BFAEAE. Ps. Don't forget Allaire Village over the next year. Daniele: Di, Dani, Dan – I am so glad you came! I am going to band camp, but you are going to music. Thanx 4 being there 4 me whenever I needed you. So many memories: BFFAEAE. I love you 2. To a bunch of other people: Creating an evil plan to create an army of cello players to take over the world, beginners teaching beginners. All trumpet players must have a personality. And to everyone at Hartwick for the music festival: THIS ONE TIME AT BAND CAMP… love you guys….Nicole. E-mail me at lilkikerz12@AOL.com, and AIM kekeinatree.

The last testament and will of CORINNE WAITE
Melanie Russell: I leave you every named empty bottle on our window sill, even Just Kidding Smiling Charlie. I also leave you a half-eaten potato. "It just didn't belong." I leave you my shoes. Lisa Gary: I leave you shoes that you won't trip in while I'm around. Amy Feigengaum: I leave you a black biker jacket since we are such rebels. "So anyways…"Liz Lee: I leave you my nonexistent knowledge of theory.Thanx for the help,haha Caitlin Russell: I leave you a 7-up bottle to laugh at and a practice room to spend the day in. Becky Dragonetti: I leave you a prosthetic arm to hold on to for dear life during scary movies. The guys on 2nd floor Van Ess, 3rd room from the right: I leave you a new flashlight.

Elise Wiesenthal, leave:
Leah: an inflatable golf cart, a duckbilled platypus, a pair of my comfy flipflops, shoes don't blister, more gloopy lipgloss, chocolate covered gommy bears, Amy's Grandma's cookies, raspberry, iced tea, the 3rd floor of Yager, French braids, pretty colored string, calling you Leah, not Rachel, a practice room and baggy capris. Amy: an endless amount of cold water, a desk next to your mirror (so your clothes aren't all over mine), an alarm clock that wakes her up, no more 10 second crushes, and the attack of the giant tomatoes. Rachel: red paint, something (or someone) to fill the hole the size of Jupiter, all of my tissue, comfy dress shoes, another session of camp, no more sectionals, a bandanna, French braids, a Hartwick sweatshirt, fun run at any time of the day, the bottom bunk, calling you Rachel, not Leah, and a ascreenname that isn't only cute at band camp. Delia: a working oboe, fun swims! A field hocky stick, people to make us not lonely ☺, and another session of camp. Emily: tap shoes, the dance, cell phone reception, upsidedown hallways, river dancing (and when I say river I mean river), being Jewish for 2 weeks, and the JMRDLC. Biederman: rolling down the hill (or not) an endless amount of quarters (like the ones in your pocket), car rides with Susannah, and 500 water balloons. Liz: More grilled cheese than you could ever eat, a 2 inch pencap, lots of working reeds, and a test tube baby. Dave: A Frisbee, another week of camp, and a softball glove (grrrr… Addison: ☺ ☺ ☺ ☺ Matt: the inhaler night, being 2 of 7 people at services, 2 girls… and a kiss.Kyle: watch it fly!, a clean swab, programs, a piano, and Dr. Wallace Cassie: no more number one and every male's head on a platter.

KATIE WOLFF'S WILL
I Katie Wolff leave
-Liz Lee my refridgerator-Lisa Gary, Glencora Davies, and Rebecca Freed my umm... triangiular shaped "thing"-Mireade my broken nose-Josh Tariff my RBI for the team!-Becky Dragonette HER glasses that i always wore!-Isabelle, Kristina, and Quinn our pizza-Paul Aksum, i leave some "vampire tea"

The last will and testament of AMANDA ZYMROZ
My hero Glencora: I leave my journal and my Mariah Carey single so you can sing it all you want! My roommate Kim: I leave late night chats and my track shoes for "Fun Run." Lisa: I leave a fly subtler- to kill those killer bugs in the girls' bathroom! Becca: I would leave you my trumpet… but you already got a sax. Sorry…Michelle: I leave my book of song from "Oklahoma." Mairead: I leave a stick of butter because we all know it's "fabulous." Garret: I leave a pillow for future maps through orchestral rehearsal!
Miranda (my singing buddy): I leave all of my "bright array."Kyle: I leave a hairball and a roll of duct tape in case James doesn't "Shut up!" next time. 2nd floor Charles: I leave my sopping clothes from the Scavenger Hunt. And all my money goes to… no one! Ha!

It's time to unwet the clarinet reed

Marloðs Last Will and Testament

Lindsay: There is no one to sit at lunch with and joke around. The conducting class was sooo much fun....not!! call me...1-631-361-7259

Michelle: Hey Thanx for eating our cereal and getting us dormed! LOL! I think I am forgetting you already! Rock on!!!

Elinora: Dan Mumm is looking better and better every day. Haha! Like ðsheð didnðt barg into our rooms enough-you know who. Shlabumba Becky: O how I wish to make your hair the biggest best Red Afro. I have pix with you and big hair. Donðt worry...youðre not a Shlabumba.

Jake: You and our mohawk rock! Never loose your sense of humor

Erica: Nothing like being roommates with our best friend for 4 weeks. 2AM in the morning chats. Getting tackel in a game called softball. We should have been dormed more often cuz it Rox . Hallejiua-man I miss that music.

Lis: ðWere you NOT just at the Fire drillð HaHa we got over them, rite? Sitting on the couch at Patio time count them out #1, #2, #3...

Harry: Youðre so cool. Well I canðt use my patio time strategies on you cuz you know what they are ðsit alone, they come to youð

Ramin: you remind me of Nooders...hehe-Well you and Erica were cute summer fling...too bad u didnðt fit my standards ðNo flip flopsð

Dave and Teddy: I hope you liked our window show

Hallejuah Gurl- Hallejuah

Trudi: Lot of fun be hind the caution sign...

I, Ethan Nash, of enthusiastic, though occasionally stressed and overextended mind and sound, though apparently tired body (how many times have I heard that I look tired this summer?) do hearby bequeath... to Lauryn, Cassie, Kim, Emma, Bonnie, Becky, Nadine, Erin, Sam, Clare, Miranda, Liz, Nicolette and Susan, an underground air conditioned shuttle to the chapel, a safe accident proof stairwell to sing in year round, a rehearsal space with a chalkboard, a secular piece in a language other than Latin, an invitation to the 10 year reunion singing of the Holst Ave Maria, page 10 of the Brahms Ave Maria, and my thanks for the opportunity to conduct pieces that I've always wanted to do... to the Women's Choir, a teleprompter to feed accurate French lyrics, a journey to that place that actually is a cross between the promised land and a rodeo, my thanks for supplying me with "save my soul" during my lyric recitation's dramatic pause, a cambrie shirt with a twist of parsley, sage, rosemary and thyme, a perfect standing arrangement, prepared with love for hours by an obsessive conductor and consistent air conditioning in the ACA Circle... to Susannah, a 1 way flight to Cleveland via Fritz's elevator, a children's choir to conduct and dance with year round, and a respectable number of pizza orders; to Mandy, a close up view of Times Square in bumper to bumper traffic, a Mets-Mariners World Series, an invitation to "check e-mail" anytime, good conversation and many hugs; to Josh, a dress and a high inside fastball; to Jen, a BIG snowball and a slotted spoon that can catch the potato; to Dan, the smackdown, and of course, "When I Think of You"; to Allison, the Sound of Cinderella on a State Fair Carousel in South Oklahoma; to Ali, singers who can match pitch, as per your request; to Jeff, Naji, John and Lee- Sal's (what else needs to be said?); and to all... my thanks for a wonderful summer, ample time for Jewish religious services, a good late night song session, many years of competitive softball games and a different PEZ dispenser to sit forever on every campus piano.

It's time to unlearn the parts to the double choir motet

It's time to unsing us a song, you're the piano man
It's time to undrink to me only with thine eyes
It's time to unteach the world to sing in perfect harmony
It's time to give back rhythm, music and my gal
It's time to undo the Hokey Pokey and turn yourself around
It's time to undeclare that Andy shall reign forever and ever
It's time to be unrolling on the river
It's time to unclap your hands, all ye mighty people
It's time to untranslate Ye Banks and Braes
Things change Jo
